Death of 6 kids – man in custody

A MAN has been remanded in custody after appearing in court charged with murdering six siblings who died after a fire ripped through their home as they slept.

Paul Barry Mosley, 45, appeared at Derby Magistrates' Court charged with the murders of Jade Philpott, 10, and her brothers John, nine, Jack, eight, Jesse, six, Jayden, five, and 13-year-old Duwayne.

Mosley, of Derby, was remanded to appear at Nottingham Crown Court for a preliminary hearing on Thursday.

He will appear alongside the children's parents Mick and Mairead Philpott, who have also been charged with the murders.

The children died after the blaze engulfed their semi-detached house in Victory Road, Allenton, Derby, on May 11.

BONFIRE...SHITE!

ORGANISERS have said sorry after a firework display went wrong – spectacularly wrong!

A rocket had misfired and ricocheted into the remaining fireworks, setting all two grand's worth off at the same time.

The resulting inferno send bystanders scattering for cover and was described by one witness as "f*ing brilliant!"

No-one was seriously hurt in the incident at Pentland Community Centre in the less-than-lovely Oxgangs Brae area of Edinburgh.

But a girl suffered a burn to the side of her face and was taken to the Royal Hospital for Sick Children.

A spokesman said: "This was a freak accident and most regrettable."

Fuming Tories boot out jungle MP

TORY MP Nadine Dorries was last night suspended by the Tory party for appearing on I'm A Celebrity... Get Me Out Of Here!

By SIMON DEAN
simon@sundaysport.co.uk

The 55-year-old, who represents Mid Bedfordshire, will face eating bugs and offal as the first serving MP to take part in the programme.

Dorries is known for her blistering attacks on David Cameron, calling him "sexist" and declaring that he and George Osborne are "two posh boys who don't know the price of milk".

But her stint in the Australian jungle – which could see her missing an EU budget vote and be away for the Chancellor's mini-budget – has effectively finished her political career.

Tory Chief Whip Sir George Young is on the warpath as Ms Dorries didn't ask the party if she could go. A source said: "We knew nothing about it."

Under Tory rules MPs must clear any planned absence from the Commons with the Whips and give the reason for being away.

She now faces having the Tory whip permanently withdrawn – effectively being sacked by the parliamentary party – and being dropped by local activists.

In her constituency, the chairman said he wasn't aware of her involvement in the show, and Home Secretary Theresa May said she believed an MP should be doing their job in their constituency and in Parliament.

TOFF TALK: Nadine has slammed Cam

Former Tory MP Harry Greenway said: "This is outrageous. Her local party should think very deeply as to whether she is putting them first or not."

Ex-MP Louise Mensch, who gave up her Corby seat in August, said: "Nothing sadder than a politician, or ex-politician, on any of those shows."

And Matthew Sinclair, of the TaxPayers' Alliance, said: "While she is being a Z-list celeb, her constituents will be without an MP."

Exit offer for Syria leader

SYRIAN president Bashar Assad could be allowed to flee his country if it would end the bloodshed, David Cameron has claimed.

The Prime Minister said he would do "anything to get that man out of the country" but refused to offer Assad a safe haven in Britain during his tour of the Gulf and Middle East.

In Syria there have been bloody battles for more 18 months, with tens of thousands of protestors killed by government forces.

Mr Cameron opened up the possibility of an arranged exit for Assad as he prepared for talks with King Abdullah of Saudi Arabia in Jeddah.

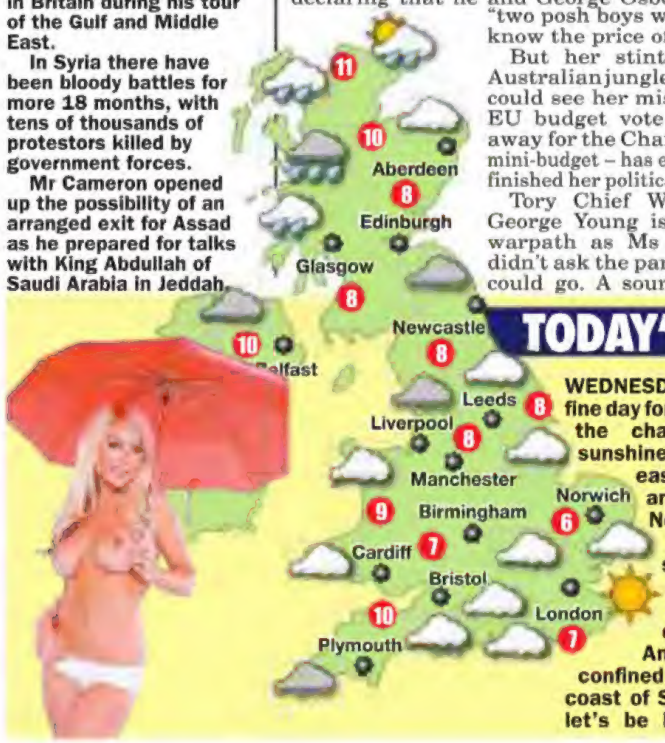
TODAY'S WEATHER



WEDNESDAY should be a fine day for most with even the chance of some sunshine in the south east of England and in parts of Northumberland. Temperatures should be about 10C or 11C up and down the country. Any rain should be confined to the west coast of Scotland where, let's be honest, they're used to it. Thursday should be, if anything, an even better day with no rain forecast for anyone. Temperatures maybe a degree warmer than Wednesday.

OUTLOOK: Rain returning.

May announces abuse probe

HOME Secretary Theresa May has announced a new police inquiry into the allegations of child abuse in North Wales dating back to the 1970s and 80s.

She said the head of the National Crime Agency would investigate any fresh allegations, and examine the way the police handled the original complaints.

One victim has claimed that a senior Conservative figure from the Thatcher era was involved in the abuse.

He said an inquiry in 2000 failed to fully examine all the claims.

The allegations of abuse began to emerge in the 1990s and they were highlighted again last week when Steve Messham made his claims.

The crime agency head, Keith Bristow, will report by April 2013, Mrs May told MPs.

The Serious and Organised Crime Agency and the Child Exploitation and Online Protection Centre will also be involved.

Malene Espensen

Age 30, 32F-24-36, from Kingston upon Thames

I WENT to see the new James Bond film at the weekend – now I'd love to play the role of the baddie temptress trying to seduce Daniel Craig.

007 looks really sexy in his tux and bow tie – he can have licence to THRILL with me any time!

And I'd be ecstatic if he managed to leave me shaken and stirred.

Perhaps I could do a photo shoot recreating the famous scene from Goldfinger where the naked Bond girl is covered from head to toe in gold paint.

So remember, the name's Espensen – Malene Espensen.

Sarah: 8am is too early for a c*ck!

TELLY funnygirl Sarah Millican says she's been plagued by randy fans who send her snaps of their TACKLE!

The chat show queen said some fellas got hold of her email address and sent her mucky pictures around the clock.

Sarah, 37, revealed: "I went through a phase where I got lots of photos of cocks sent to me. It made me nervous about opening files with attachments for a while.

"At one point it was 8am and my email pinged and it was a picture of someone's cock – I just thought it was too early for that kind of thing.

"8am is too early for a cock you know really well!"

Sarah, whose DVD Thoroughly Modern Millican is out next week, also confessed her worst telly moment was when she did a huge fart on the Big Breakfast sofa!

She said: "Luckily there was plenty of noise around us so nobody noticed.

"Or at least I don't think they did."

Chris likes to Packham in CHEEKY wildlife presenter Chris Packham keeps himself entertained on telly by slipping the titles of Oscar-winning movies into his Autumnwatch commentary.

Chris has managed to cram a whopping 36 film names into the four-part BBC2 series so far.

At the start of the opening episode he announced: "We've taken a Braveheart and headed north of Inverness," clearly referencing the 1995 Mel Gibson film.

And he later dropped in cinema classics The Sound Of Music, Rocky, Gladiator, American Beauty and A Beautiful Mind.

Chris, 51, explained: "It's a fun game. The segments are unscripted, so I wait for co-presenters to give me the chance to sneak a film title in.

"I could manage The Godfather but not the Godfather Part II."

Top school Head found hanged in her office

A HEADTEACHER has been found hanged in her office six months after starting at an "oustanding" village school.

The body of Helen Mann, 43, was found by colleagues at Sytchampton Endowed Primary School in Stourport on Severn, Worcs, on Monday.

There were no children in the school at the time and police have launched an investigation into an "unexplained" death.

Parents of pupils have been told the small hamlet school will be closed until Thursday because of a "serious incident".

A spokesperson for West Midlands Ambulance Service, who attended the scene, said: "A woman found at the school was confirmed dead at the scene."

Mrs Mann, who began her new role at the start of the summer term, was married to 48-year-old Phillip and had two sons, aged 13 and 10.

The school has 109 pupils aged between five and nine and achieved "outstanding" Ofsted reports in 2006 and 2009.

A spokesman for West Mercia Police said: "Her death is not believed to be suspicious."

Footie rapist loses appeal

DISGRACED footballer Ched Evans has lost a challenge against his conviction for rape.

The former Sheffield United and Wales striker had his case rejected by three judges at the Court of Appeal in London.

The 23-year-old was jailed for five years in April for raping a 19-year-old woman in a hotel room.

He denied the offence but was found guilty at Caernarfon Crown Court.

He admitted having sex with her but the woman told the jury she had no memory of the incident.

The prosecution said the woman, who cannot be named for legal reasons, was too drunk to consent to sexual intercourse.

The judges also threw out a bid by Evans to have his sentence reduced.

'BOND' VILLAINS ON BIKES IN SHOPPING CENTRE JEWEL HEIST

THIS is the shocking moment a gang of robbers armed with axes and bats tore through a shopping centre on motorbikes during a daring raid on a jeweller's shop.

They entered Brent Cross Shopping Centre, in north London, shortly after 10.15am yesterday and headed for the Fraser Hart jewellery store.

The men are thought to have made off with a horde including luxury Cartier and Rolex watches.

Shoppers panicked as the robbery took place, with many running for the exits – but some shops refused to let customers leave while the incident was underway.

Witness Richard Treister, 48, said: "It was like a Hollywood film.

"I would never have imagined someone would do that in a shopping centre.

"It was like a scene out of James Bond."

BROTHEL MADAM MADE £500,000

Court told clients paid £1,500 for romps with high-class callgirls

ACCUSED: McKinlay

By CAROL DWYER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A BROTHEL owner sent her children to private school while running a £500,000 a year online escort agency, a court heard.

Marie McKinlay, 40, allegedly employed high-class hookers who gave customers anything from "girlfriend to porn star experience".

It is reported that McKinlay controlled 25 women – charging clients between £300 per hour and £1,500 for an overnight booking.

Southwark Crown Court heard she operated the Allure escort agency from December 2008 to May 2011, a front for a prostitution racket that paid for McKinlay's two children's school fees.

She also rented a £1,500-a-night apartment in central London where it is said clients could romp with two girls at a time.

She is said to have made more than £350,000 in profits from the racket, with £90,000 earnings in the first six months of 2011 – giving an income of £180,000 that year.

Prosecutor Edmund Vickers said: "Between 2008 and 2011 the defendant ran an internet escort agency which provided prostitutes at what could be described as the high end of the market – for clients who were willing to pay £300 or more an hour for sexual services from prostitutes.

Organised

"The defendant set up the website and the Allure agency.

"She interviewed and recruited the girls, and uploaded their details to the website – not only their photos but the services and their prices – she dealt with the clients and she organised the girls' bookings.

"She rented a flat in the London Bridge area for clients to meet girls, or she sent the girls out to the client.

"She charged the girls 30 per cent commission on all the takings which made her a small fortune.

"Between December 2008 and May 2011, she received cash deposits over £350,000.

"You will see that when the defendant was arrested for the period from January to June 2011 she had already made over £90,000."

McKinlay, of Lewisham, southeast London, denies controlling prostitutes for gain and converting criminal property between December 2008 and July 2011.

The trial continues.

Premier League conman jailed over £7m scam

A CONMAN who stole £7million from hundreds of investors including a Premier League footballer has been jailed.

David Bowerman, 35, used the proceeds of the scam to fund an extravagant lifestyle of holidays and fast cars.

The "compulsive gambler" blew £80,000 on Caribbean cruises, drove a £38,000 Audi and an £81,000 Aston Martin and enjoyed lavish casino trips.

At the height of his crimes, Bowerman's Facebook profile had a picture of him lighting a cigar with a £50 note.

His victims included 200 investors and Manchester City and ex-England goalkeeper Richard Wright.

Despite the scale of the scam he racked up huge debts and eventually handed himself into police.

His scams involved offering investors false returns by using funds from new investors to give the impression of a profit-making business.

He also conducted a separate loan fraud. Bowerman, of Chelmsford, Essex, was jailed at the city's Crown Court for eight years after he admitted 32 counts of fraud and one of theft.

Tongue and cheek for court racist

RACIST Jamie Stopp apologised to JPs for sticking his tongue out at them in court.

He made the gesture while being sentenced for shouting at three girls in Islamic dress while drunk at a shopping centre in September, adding: "England till I die."

As he stuck out his tongue, magistrate Katherine Heap told him: "That's contempt of court. We are not accepting that."

Stopp's barrister Chris Hallas told the three JPs: "Mr Stopp wishes to apologise for sticking his tongue out. It was not out of disrespect to the court. His lips were very dry."

Stopp, 23, of Etwall, Derby, admitted racial harassment and was given 12 weeks' custody – suspended for a year – and told to pay £100 compensation to each girl.

SAVILE QUIZ OVER RIPPER KILLINGS

LEADER: How our sister paper Sunday Sport broke news

Cop reveals: Sex beast DJ was named by public

EVIL Jimmy Savile WAS quizzed by cops investigating the Yorkshire Ripper murders, it was sensationally revealed last night.

The disgraced former Radio One DJ was hauled in for questioning about the killings 30 years ago after his name was put forward by members of the public.

Savile, who died last year aged 84, has since been unmasked as one of the country's worst ever sex offenders – with as many as 300 underage victims.

By JUSTIN DUNN
justin@sundaysport.co.uk

Sutcliffe is serving 20 life terms at Broadmoor high security unit for the brutal murders of 13 women and the attempted murder of seven more between 1975 and 1981.

Our sister paper Sunday Sport exclusively revealed an eerie series of links between Savile and the Ripper, Peter Sutcliffe.

Friends

They found that the pair, known to have been friends after Savile was appointed as chair of an interim task force at Broadmoor in 1988, may have known each other BEFORE – when the Ripper was still at large.

This week tapes have been unearthed that show Sutcliffe believes the former Jim'll Fix It host to be innocent, saying: "It's a load of rubbish. People are just getting carried away."

But last night ex-West Yorkshire cop John Stainthorpe told ITV Calendar News that Savile was brought in for questioning after members of the public contacted the police giving the eccentric DJs name as a possible killer.

Mr Stainthorpe, who spent 40 years with the Force and who spent years trying to catch Sutcliffe, said: "As a matter of interest, when the Ripper was really active, one suspect put forward by the public was in fact Jimmy Savile, strange as it must seem.

"Obviously, it was not him, but he was interviewed – along with many others, as you can appreciate."

Savile's friendship with the Ripper was caught on film in 1991, when he invited Frank Bruno to open a gym at Broadmoor and the boxer was snapped shaking hands with Sutcliffe.

In the photo, wiry-haired, bearded Sutcliffe is wearing a shiny shellsuit similar to those famously worn by the cigar-chomping, marathon-running telly nonce.

'HE FORCED ME TO WATCH WOMAN WITH A SEX TOY'

Tribunal told boss sexually harrassed receptionist

AN office receptionist claims her manager made her watch a video of a woman using a SEX TOY.

Ewa Sycz, 30, said that her manager at work Alex Trott asked her whether she had "any sexual needs" when he learnt she was single.

Polish Miss Sycz said that Mr Trott would stare at her, try to tickle her and once tried to massage her temple, she told Central London Employment Tribunal.

Married father-of-four Mr Trott, 64, allegedly bombarded women staff with smutty emails and YouTube videos.

Miss Sycz said that he forced her to watch a video of a woman using a giant pink vibrator.

She told the tribunal that Mr Trott often tried to talk to her about sex and tried to tickle her "love-handles".

Miss Sycz said: "He was quite tactile with me. He would try to tickle my love-handles. I avoided his touch and tried to keep him at a physical distance.

"Mr Trott would frequently ask me to join him in his office to talk. During these conversations he would often introduce a sexual subject.

"He would discuss how a woman achieved orgasm. He said that he was very good at it.

"He also asked me about oral sex and whether women enjoyed it. He pretended to be trying to find out more about what women want but he meant me."

Miss Sycz, of Willesden, north-west London, has already received an out-of-court payment of £18K from her former firm Pace Security Services.

She is now bringing a second tribunal claim for victimisation.

Pace denies this and the hearing continues.

Detective dies after phone theft street chase

A DETECTIVE who collapsed and died was chasing a phone thief at the time.

Detective Constable Adele Cashman, 30, a response team officer based at Kentish Town police station, was in pursuit when she collapsed in Belsize Park Gardens, Camden, at 9.45pm on Monday.

She later died in hospital.

The smartphone was snatched from the hand of a 59-year-old woman in Haverstock Hill and the "much-loved and wholly dedicated" officer chased after two suspects.

Uniformed officers on duty in the area joined Det Con Cashman and requested more help.

A 17-year-old boy was arrested at the scene and a second boy, also 17, was arrested and a phone recovered, Scotland Yard said.

The suspects remain in custody at north and central London police stations.

Acting Borough Commander Richard Tucker, from Camden Police, said: "Adele was a much-loved and wholly dedicated officer.

"We are devastated at her sudden passing."

Xmas lovers fancy Fifty Shades toys

THE Fifty Shades of Grey sex boom continues after record sales of official adult products developed with the best-seller's author, E L James.

A third of the stock intended to last until Christmas sold out online on the first day of trading.

And now extra stock is being shipped to meet the huge demand from kinky couples keen to sex up their Christmas.

The most popular sex toy is the Inner Goddess Silver Balls followed by the Insatiable Desire Mini Vibrator and the Yours and Mine Vibrating Love Ring.

E L James has worked with designers to recreate the items used by Ana Steele and her billionaire lover Christian Grey in the 'mummy porn' book.

The high sales show many couples are turning the heat up on their festive holiday, with some experimenting with soft bondage – buying metal handcuffs, whips and blindfolds.

By Christmas, more than 100 million people worldwide will have enjoyed the books.

THE TRUTH ISN'T OUT THERE!

Experts prove aliens DON'T visit Earth

THERE'S no such thing as UFOs, Britain's top flying saucer hunters say.

Amateur alien experts have been looking to the skies for decades, since the term 'Unidentified Flying Object' was first coined back in 1953.

But those in search of little green men can put down their telescopes as the practise is being slowly wound-up after a lack of new sightings.

Dave Wood, chairman of the Association for the Scientific Study of Anomalous Phenomena, said: "The lack of compelling evidence beyond the anecdotal suggests that nothing is out there.

"Any UFO researcher would tell you that 98 per cent of sightings that happen are very easily explainable.

By JESSICA HAWORTH
jessica@sundaysport.co.uk

Sightings

"One of the conclusions to draw from this is that perhaps there isn't anything there. The days of compelling eyewitness sightings seem to be over."

The confession is sure to have conspiracy theorists pointing to yet another cover-up.

Despite most people carrying mobile phones, with video capabilities, there's still no proper evidence that E.T. has visited planet Earth.

David Clark, the UFO adviser to the National Archives, said: "The subject is dead in that no one is seeing anything evidential.

"If there was something flying around from somewhere else, someone would have come up with convincing footage by now – but they haven't."

Troubled TPT back in rehab to face 'demons'

POSH girl Tara Palmer-Tomkinson is back in rehab.

The 40-year-old I'm A Celebrity... star has checked into the Manor private clinic in Hampshire for a month after being seen out looking "disorientated".

A friend of the star said: "Tara has a history of battling various demons and unfortunately it seems some have returned to haunt her.

"She knows when things get bad – the only answer is rehab.

"All those who love her, support her and are so pleased she has decided to take this course of action as she has been having a particularly difficult time lately.

"We're looking forward to seeing a healthier, happier Tara on the other side."

Her friends say her recent "wobble" isn't as bad as her breakdown in 1999 when she fell apart on the Frank Skinner show.

At the time she spent £35,000 to get clean, saying: "It takes a long time to admit your shame."

MILFs want more action

BRITAIN'S young mums are not getting enough nookie, according to a survey.

More than 60 per cent of MILFs told researchers they wanted AT LEAST three shags a week.

But the same number admitted their blokes were not up to it – mainly because they were either boozing with their mates or playing on computer games with their pals.

And 10% said they had a male bit-on-the-side to gratify their needs.

The online survey of 1,000 sexually active mums under the age of 35, noted: "Only 38% of women are actually getting what they want."

A frisky 43% admitted owning a vibrator and using it regularly to alleviate "feelings of sexual frustration."

And 28% said they'd checked out web porn or visited a chatroom to talk to other men about sex.

Geordie Shore star Holly admits to watching HORSE SEX porn

RANDY Geordie Shore star Holly Hagan has sensationally revealed how she once watched a woman have sex with a horse!

The outrageous redhead boasted about watching beastiality – where people shag with animals.

Holly, 21, and pal Charlotte Crosby, 22, who have both had full and oral sex on the MTV show, say that's the only thing that's off limits for them!

Asked if there was anything they wouldn't show on camera Holly said: "Probably full frontal fanny flaps."

Charlotte added: "But they always blur that out so I wouldn't have a problem with that.

"There's nothing in ordinary life that I wouldn't want anyone to see.

"Only extra out-of-the-ordinary things. So say if I was having sex with a horse, I'd be a bit iffy on that being shown."

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

Illegal

Charlotte was asked when she would ever be having sex with a horse, and replied: "I was just talking about what you wouldn't want on telly, nothing illegal. Is it illegal?"

Then Holly piped up: "It is illegal. I've seen videos (of a woman having sex with a horse)."

Charlotte replied: "Is it? Did she get arrested?"

Holly replied: "No, she died!"

Holly, who is dating housemate James Tindale, 22, came up with a weird suggestion for a dream celeb on MTV's reality show.

She said: "Jesus would be so cool, because he would kind of disagree with everything that we do so there'd be arguments.

"I'm not keen on him turning water into wine though.

Maybe he could work out how to do cider."

Arrests in flat fall horror

TWO people have been arrested after a man suffered a serious head injury when he plunged from a FIRST FLOOR flat window.

The 46-year-old landed on the concrete below after neighbours heard shouting from the property in Fareham, Hants.

A police spokesman said a 22-year-old man and a woman, 19, were arrested on suspicion of assault causing grievous bodily harm.

A police spokesman said: "We would like to talk to anyone who saw this incident and who can help us find out how the injured man came to fall from the window."

Cops probe claim guard was called 'Welsh bastard'

COPS and club officials are probing reports that a football fan abused a Cardiff City security guard, calling him a "Welsh bastard".

A Bolton Wanderers fan allegedly made the comment after the match at the Reebok Stadium on Saturday.

Greater Manchester Police were informed of the incident by another fan, who said they saw a Bolton fan shout an abusive anti-Welsh remark at a security guard near to the away dugout.

Police confirmed they were investigating a public order offence.

Bolton Wanderers are also investigating and working to identify the fan responsible.

It is believed the security guard does not want to press charges.

Cardiff have been working with Bolton and GMP following the incident.

A Cardiff spokesman said: "After the Bolton match a member of the home crowd was reported to stadium security and Greater Manchester Police for persistent foul, abusive and aggressive language in close proximity to the away dugout.

"We remain fully committed to working with authorities on identifying the individual concerned."

Phillip Schofield: I'm not cruel

TV star Phillip Schofield has bitten back after being slammed by fans for eating a GUINEA PIG.

The Dancing On Ice and This Morning host sparked fury when he posted a picture of the roasted rodent on Twitter.

But the 50 year old, who was trekking in Peru, said he was only following local traditions.

And Schofield blasted his critics saying: "I have said I'm against animal cruelty! I will not eat anything that had not been properly farmed or cared for. There are many foods I would not eat because of that.

"But I will not impose a colonial British view on what other cultures eat as they're national dishes. Though I'm opposed to cruelty have I made myself clear?!!"

There's about as much chance of the Queen having "F*" inked on her forehead as there is of David Cameron getting "Love" and "Hate" on his knuckles.

But if they did, it'd be just as funny as if ultra-gay dancer Louis Spence had "Ladies Love It" written on his top lip or Simon Cowell got a circle of spiders around his eye.

Big Bro pair blagged by fake TV man

A CONMAN duped a fame-hungry Big Brother duo into being followed by a camera crew for MONTHS – by convincing them he was filming a new reality show.

Mario Marconi and Lisa Appleton were tricked into filming Lisa and Mario: Their Journey by serial fraudster Selva Carmichael.

But it has now emerged that his TV production company, the World Screen Group, was a bogus front to lure celebrities and investors.

Carmichael – who calls himself "The Silver Fox" – also targeted X Factor singer Chico Slimani, posing as his manager when the pair had only met briefly on two occasions.

Mario and Lisa did not receive a penny and split with the 51-year-old when the promised TV series failed to materialise.

They have now learned he was jailed earlier this year for a £500,000 con involving Santander Bank and is serving a three-and-a-half year jail sentence.

Women want welly from their willy, survey says

THERE'S no doubt about it – as far as sexually-active girls are concerned, size REALLY does matter.

In new saucy revelations, the women – married, single, and divorced – expressed a resounding preference for well-endowed guys with HUGE trouser-snakes.

The poll, which quizzed 1,870 women between the ages of 24 and 48, concluded that seven out of ten females preferred to bed a much larger man.

The survey – which was commissioned for an online erotic forum – said: "Researchers asked women to choose between a lover with a big penis versus a smaller-sized lover who was good at foreplay.

"It was a no-contest."

Most women admitted a love for foreplay but they were frank about their preferences for massive man organs.

A whopping 56 per cent said they got big kicks from big dicks

More than 50 per cent claimed that the experience produced "more arousal as well as deliciously intense pleasures."

The frisky fans of the larger lunchbox also went wild over the sensations of being "totally filled."

Teacher died over rock row

A RETIRED teacher suffered a fatal heart attack as he argued with neighbours who put a ghetto blaster on his doorstep blaring out rock.

Patrick Gallagher (above), 64, went out to complain to a group of up to five people, but as one of them shouted at him, "Don't make an enemy out of me", the former maths teacher collapsed on the doorstep of his terraced house in Whitworth, near Rochdale, Lancs.

He was rushed to hospital but died three days later. Four men and a woman were arrested on suspicion of causing GBH with intent but no further action was taken.

At an inquest the coroner recorded a narrative verdict saying the suspects had avoided manslaughter charges "by a whisker".

THESE sexy stunnas have all got one thing in common – they're all speccy PHWOAR eyes!.

But with so much curvy flesh on display it might be hard to focus on the fact that the beauties are all wearing specs.

They're all keen to copy former Corrie star Helen Flanagan after she stole the show as co-host of Specsavers' Specatcle Wearer of the Year awards last week.

The busty actress – set to appear in ITV1's I'm a Celeb... – had onlookers gasping in a bosomy gown that had men's eyes popping out of their head.

The 22-year-old WAG has proved that wearing glasses isn't just for geeks, as our sexy Sport stunnas show.

Saucy Sophie Howard, 29, pulled off putting on specs in a sizzling shot baring a nipple that could have someone's eye out!

The Southport babe said: "I think they make a girl look smart as well as sexy. That's an irresitible combination for men."

And Leicester lass Emily Johnston, a 23-year-old blonde, said: "They're usually the last thing a guy takes off me, after my lacy undies."

But former TOWIE star Maria Fowler, 26, added stockings and suspenders to her outfit and issued a challenge to fellas.

The Derby babe said: "I doubt any bloke would notice I've got specs on wearing this. See how long you can stare into my eyes without looking away, go on!

FORMER SAS HARDMAN ANDY McNAB ON

Red Notice by Andy McNab, published by Bantam Press. Out now

They were savage, violent – they killed people without even thinking about it...

ANDY MAN TO KNOW: McNab

IF SAS hero Andy McNab told you his real name he might have to kill you.

But the good news is he's more than happy to go into graphic detail about the most spine-tinglingly deadly Special Air Service missions he's undertaken over the years.

In 22 SAS, he carried-out covert ops on five different continents – etching his name into regimental history after commanding the Bravo Two Zero patrol during the Gulf War.

Awarded both the Distinguished Conduct Medal and Military Medal during his career, he was the British Army's most highly-decorated serving soldier when he finally left the SAS.

Now a bestselling author, Andy, 52, has written several works of non-fiction and fiction and worked in Hollywood, co-writing scripts and helping actors to imitate soldiers.

To tie in with the release of his latest book Red Notice, he has spoken EXCLUSIVELY to Midweek Sport about his deadliest enemies, working undercover and protecting his identity.

By JON LIVESEY
jon@sundaysport.co.uk

THE BAD GUYS IN RED NOTICE ARE RUSSIAN TERRORISTS? ANY REASON WHY?

I've spent lot of time in Georgia, where there's a lot of tension with Russia. You see it in films all the time where the Russians are the bad guys, but what I wanted to do was put these people into context – to show why they're so pissed-off.

In Georgia, there are a lot of Russians who have basically been fed over during the wars, so they're really aggressive and anti-Georgian – anything that involves attacking or killing Georgians, they're up for – and the guys in the book are an extension of that.

From a Russian point of view, some of the things that have happened in Georgia have been really atrocious and you can see why these guys are so pissed-off and constantly fighting.

SPEAKING OF BAD GUYS, WHO ARE THE MOST DANGEROUS YOU'VE HAD TO FIGHT?

The FARC guerrillas in Colombia are up there. The SAS have been in operations over there for years and a lot of what goes on is outrageous.

Of course, you get a lot of groups who are savage, but usually their weapons are minimal. The difference with FARC was they also had really good weapons, like AN-94 assault rifles and M15 pistols – American and Russian-made weapons – so they were really well-armed.

These guys were savage, ferocious and violent, but they also had the capabilities to do real damage and that made them even more dangerous. Honestly, these lads would go in and start killing people within half-a-minute. They wouldn't even think about it.

WOW! SO WHAT'S THE DEADLIEST SITUATION YOU'VE BEEN IN?

Obviously, being captured and getting up to escape in the Gulf War was pretty scary. But the worst isn't the "bang-bang" stuff, but the undercover work, like what I did in Northern Ireland in the 1980s, where you don't have any control of the situation.

Imagine, you're not up to your nose in Kevlar body-armour and you don't have a big, fat weapon – you've got a concealed weapon, like a little pistol, and you're never going to draw down on that unless you really need to because it'd compromise the job.

So it's those operations that are the scariest because you're totally exposed. I spent two years in an undercover operation with a group called 14 Intelligence, trying to find members of Active Service Units in Derry. I was going into big housing estates, like Bogside, Creggan and Shantallow, and on one day everything was nice, but the next it could all be different.

HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT YOU WERE GOING TO DIE?

Yeah, absolutely. Every time there is a contact – a fire fight – you think: "F* this, I might be killed."

More specifically, there was a time in Northern Ireland when I was with 14 Intel. I'd gone into Bogside to try to find some guys who had weapons and were going to do a shoot-off on British soldiers.

They had the weapons in a bag and were going to a house to pick up a shooter, so I was trying to follow them. But I turned a wrong corner into the estate and ran into a dead-end.

In the estates, they had dickers – people who protect their areas – so you had to bluff it to make them think you had a reason to be there. I'd turned a wrong corner, so they start going: "What's he up to?" I was facing the wall and I could hear lads behind me looking to see what I was doing.

I had to show them something they would recognise, so I had a piss. But then I couldn't piss, so it became really frightening. In that situation, you can't turn around because it'll show you don't know what you're doing, so you've got to bluff it out and that's what I did.

DO YOU REMEMBER THE FIRST TIME YOUR SAS TRAINING KICKED IN?

It was in Africa. I think I'd been in about a year, so I was still a trooper. I'd been an infantry soldier, so I was used to handling weapons, but being in Special Forces is slightly different because they do things differently – you're left on your own to do things.

On this occasion a compound was being attacked and I was part of the Fire Support Group, which was completely new to me. You have to get in position and start hammering with general purpose, and that gives the guys time to start moving towards the compound.

The problem is it's complicated and requires coordination, and if you f* it up you're dead. We had just got there and it had all kicked off because the people were compromised, but we had to get that fire down and it was our job to coordinate it and get it done.

But it worked, so it was at that point I realised the training had done its job. With the SAS, they select you and then train you so that nobody needs to check you – you've just got to get on with it and there's no time for any shit.

WHAT'S YOUR AREA OF EXPERTISE?

I think my strength is probably undercover work. I did a job where I was undercover for a year, the job in Derry where I was undercover for two years, and my last three years of working in the SAS was undercover as well.

I like it because, for starters, I'm pretty scruffy and you don't have to wear a uniform all the time, but for that sort of work they tend to pick people who, like me, have come from housing estates.

Coming from that background, you blend in because you are culturally and socially aware of those places.

ARE THERE EVER TIMES WHEN YOU STILL HAVE TO USE YOUR SAS TRAINING?

Yeah, and it can be a problem. I go on trips to Afghanistan and go out on patrol with the lads – 19, 20 and 21-year-olds. On the last trip we got involved in a contact and

THE DEADLIEST ENEMIES HE EVER FACED

FOR FARC'S SAKE! McNab says the Colombian guerillas are his toughest opponents ever ferocious and naturally I'm going to take cover. But if I'm down before they are, they take the piss.

In the middle of a fire fight they start shouting out. So what I do now is wait for at least two of them to get down before I go down because I can see them looking at me thinking: "You old fer."

A lot of the time when it kicks off I see it before they do, so I'm straight on the ground. But I can't do that because I get ridiculed for weeks.

ARE YOUR WORKS OF FICTION, LIKE RED NOTICE, USUALLY BASED ON YOUR EXPERIENCES?

I'm still on the board of one of the private security companies, so there's a lot of stuff that comes in that gives you ideas about what's going on, whether it's in Africa, Afghanistan or wherever.

I also go to Afghanistan with the Army quite often. Last time I was there with my old battalion 2 Rifles. All that stuff gives you ideas and instead of trying to create something, if there's something that happens or I see something, it's great because I can take it out of its real-life environment and put it into the book.

RED NOTICE* INTRODUCES SAS MAN TOM BUCKINGHAM. IS HE BASED ON ANYONE?

I suppose he's based on a guy called Al Slater, who used to be in my troop. He was a Sergeant in the SAS and he was actually shot and killed by the Provisional IRA in an operation in Northern Ireland in the 1980s.

Al was a well-educated posh lad, but instead of becoming an officer he became a Tom, a normal soldier. I took his qualities because he was sensible, really intelligent and not the sort of person you'd expected to ever be a Lance Corporal.

You'd look at him as officer material, but he left it as it was.

The majority of soldiers in the infantry come from inner cities and housing estates, so I was looking to show there's another group of people, like Al, who came from a well-to-do family, had a really good private education, but had chosen to join the Army as a Tom.

YOU'VE WORKED ON FILMS. WHO'S DONE THE BEST JOB OF IMITATING AN SAS MAN ON SCREEN?

There's an Australian film from 1979 called the Odd Angry Shot and it's about an Australian SAS troop in the Vietnam War. The actor, Bryan Brown, who was in Cocktail with Tom Cruise, played a brilliant SAS soldier.

There've been some awful ones too. Lewis Collins from The Professionals made Who Dares Wins – that was a nightmare!

WHY DO YOU STILL PROTECT YOUR REAL IDENTITY?

It's just sensible. I think 99 per cent who come out of Special Forces do that.

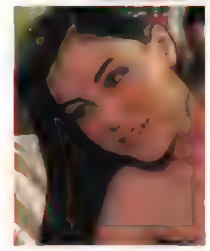
The reason I keep a low profile isn't anything to do with Iraq – it's to do with the stuff in Derry. By my accent alone, it's clear I don't come from Derry, so when we were fronting terrorists and becoming informer sources, I'd go to those pitches or meetings with undercover officers from Special Branch. Some of those guys are still there and their families are still there. There's a possibility that me showing my face puts them at risk, as well as me. Also, by protecting my identity I get to write and make films, but I don't have to do all the other stuff – I've no burning ambition to go on the Alan Titchmarsh Show.

FINALLY, IS IT TIME FOR OUR BOYS TO COME HOME FROM AFGHANISTAN?

Definitely. Ultimately, someone has said that by 2015 everybody should be back.

One of the things that I noticed when I was there was the way the transition is being conducted by the Brits. Eventually, the Afghans won't have the Brits to fall back on, so what our Army is doing is letting them run operations – and the system is working.

From a pure military sense, the British military is a really successful model.



Porn babe's leading role with Elijah!

ONE-TIME porn queen Sasha Grey has landed a leading role in a new Hollywood horror.

The saucy stunna will appear alongside Lord of the Rings star Elijah Wood in thriller Open Windows.

Sasha (above), 24, will play an actress abducted by a sadistic madman known as 'Chord', while Elijah is the man desperately trying to find her.

An insider revealed:" Sasha has flown out to Madrid to start shooting. She's very excited."

Open Windows will be shot in real time and utilise footage from webcams, tablets, mobile phones, satellite and security cameras to tell its story.

Since quitting the adult industry she has starred in a string of mainstream projects, including Steven Soderbergh's The Girlfriend Experience and Yank telly series Entourage.

Last month, Sasha announced she's writing a novel inspired by her adult movie career, saying: "It's about the Fight Club of fking. I'm sharing what I learned, and doing lots research. Lots and lots of research!"

50 per cent on the job at work

HALF of workers now admit having had a fling with a colleague, according to a new study.

The research reveals many of us cannot resist a bit of romance in the workplace.

As many as 54 per cent have engaged in at least one office romance – while 27 per cent confess having more than one.

And 74 per cent, of more than 1,000 people surveyed, admit they have been tempted to have an affair with a colleague.

But 20 per cent said someone at work had been disciplined for their office romance.

According to website IllicitEncounters.com, office affairs can cost businesses £65,000 in lost productivity.

Spokesman Mike Taylor said: "You will never stop people from developing romantic feelings towards their co-workers."

'Too sexy' Nic won't cover up for Lewis

X FACTOR babe Nicole Scherzinger is in trouble with her fella Lewis Hamilton for flirting with the boys on the talent show.

The 34-year-old judge, who has dressed in a series of slinky numbers – including a PVC corset and fishnets – has had a roasting from the 27-year-old F1 driver.

Ex Pussycat Doll Nicole was accused of distracting her acts by being 'too sexy' by host Olly Murs, who said: "Goodness knows how her boys manage to concentrate!"

A friend of the couple said: "Off camera, Nicole is the most straight laced person so he doesn't understand why she turns into a wild thing when people are watching.

"He's not the type of guy to start telling his girlfriend what to wear and he thinks Nicole looks amazing. But it's too headline grabbing for him."

But Nicole is said to be standing her ground, as she's been told by boss Simon Cowell to keep up her 'sexy persona.'

I'LL NEVER BE ABLE TO GO TO APPLEBY HORSE FAIR AGAIN!

BRAVE new glamour girl Coral May Hall is risking the wrath of her GYPSY community – after baring her boobs for her first-ever TOPLESS shoot.

By RACHEL SPENCER
rachel@sundaysport.co.uk

The naughty 19-year-old has stuck two fingers up to the traditional role normally taken on by women travellers.

Instead of slaving over a hot stove in a caravan for her hubby, Coral May has been showing off her 34E charms to fund her dream of becoming an actress or a singer.

Cora May, from Blackpool, Lancs, said: "I have had a traditional gypsy upbringing.

"We lived in a caravan on a plot of land and had our own horses. We had to go to an outhouse to have a shower.

"Every year, I'd take six weeks off school to go to Appleby Horse Fair in Cumbria, where my dad, Raymond, would sell saddles and bridles.

"We'd all have a ball, riding round on the horses and getting into mischief.

Saucy

"But after this naughty photoshoot I'm not sure I'll ever be able to show my face there again!"

A year ago, when Coral May was 18, a friend suggested she tried modelling.

She told her mum Tracy, 45, about her plans and got her complete blessing.

But brothers Dean, 24, and Sean, 22, are dead against her saucy career choice.

Coral May, who is studying Musical Theatre at Blackpool School of Arts, insists she's still determined to become a pin-up.

"I've got 34E boobs, so although I fancied doing fashion modelling I was more suited to glamour," she said.

"Eventually, I'd like to be a singer on a cruise ship, or an

Starr cancels show over grope claim

COMEDIAN Freddie Starr has cancelled a show to concentrate on defending allegations that he molested a schoolgirl in Jimmy Savile's BBC dressing room in the 1970s.

Starr, 69, claims he was "made to feel like a criminal" when officers investigating former children's TV presenter Savile arrested him.

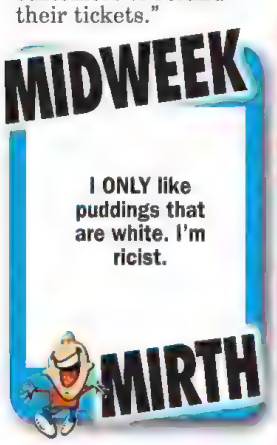
He was then held overnight on suspicion of sexual offences and has denied that he groped a girl of 14.

Fans were expecting to see Starr perform on his Back From The Jungle Tour at the Wyvern Theatre in Swindon, Wilts, today.

Around 300 tickets – costing £19.50 – had been sold but theatre director Derek Aldridge said the show would not go on, following discussions with Starr.

He said: "Freddie apologises to the hundreds of loyal fans who had purchased tickets, but hopes they understand that he is concentrating on defending the allegations made against him.

"We will contact customers to refund their tickets."



Bellringer drops clanger in belfry

A BELLRINGER was seriously injured after she got caught in ropes and dragged 20ft up a belfry.

The unnamed woman, thought to be in her late 50s, was taking part in her regular rehearsals when she was catapulted into the air at St Nicholas Church in Bathampton, Somerset.

Firefighters spent more than an hour rescuing the woman – having to lift a section of upper flooring to reach her.

The terrified victim was lowered to safety while paramedics gave her morphine.

She was taken to the Royal United Hospital in Bath where she is recovering with a suspected pelvic injury.

EMMA GLOVER

THE ONLY WAY IS GLAMOUR!

By ISOBEL DICKINSON

TOWIE tycoon Mick Norcross must have been in 00-HEAVEN after taking not one, but TWO glamour models to the latest Bond movie premiere.

The ITV2 ladies man turned up at the cinema event of the year with Midweek Sport stunnas Hannah Owens and Emma Glover on each arm.

And he'll be shaken AND stirred after seeing these photos of his date's BOOBS.

Busty babes Hannah, 19, from Liverpool, and Emma, 25, from Brentwood, Essex, have been appearing on the hit ITV2 show as Mick's Sugar Hut Honeys.

But the trio took a trip out of Essex this week to attend the swanky Skyfall premiere at the Royal Albert Hall.

A showbiz insider said: "All men want to be James Bond – but Mick came a close second turning up with two beautiful women on his arm.

Stunning

"They're absolutely stunning and Mick looked like the cat who had got the cream.

"With their looks and figures they could even give the Bond girls a run for their money."

Emma, who boasts a fantastic pair of 34G boobs and Hannah, who has incredible 32G knockers, looked show stopping in floor length orange dresses that showed off their incredible figures.

But they look more impressive without the fancy frocks.

Emma said: "I can't believe I got to go to a Bond premiere! It was exciting and I felt like a movie star on the red carpet."

Borat wife says Isla not shave

AUSSIE actress Isla Fisher says she love to go au naturel down below!

The Home And Away babe says she doesn't want people fiddling with her fandango and that she'd never have a vajazzle or a vajacial!

Isla, who is married to Borat star Sacha Baron Cohen, 41, says she is very low maintenance compared to most stars.

The 34-year-old redhead revealed: "I'm not actually very good at the maintenance thing. I don't buff, exfoliate, pluck, rinse, moisturise, suck, bleach...whatever all those women do.

"I don't have vajacials. Have you heard of those? It's like a spa for your vagina!"

And her secret to staying in shape after having two kids has been breastfeeding and wearing huge Bridget Jones style knickers.

Isla added: "I never worried about losing the weight afterwards, because breastfeeding burns all the calories up so fast.

"Breastfeeding – that's my big slimming secret. That and Spanx."

Isla plays a cocaine addict in her latest flick The Bachelorette and reckons Aussies do so well in Hollywood as they look fab in bikinis.

Not enough hairy parts for 007 Dan

JAMES Bond needs a hair transplant, claims Britain's leading hair loss expert.

Even the man who plays the world's hunkiest secret agent isn't immune from male pattern baldness.

Dr Shahmalak said: "Like Sean Connery before him, Daniel Craig's 007 is receding around his temples.

"It's obviously a very physical role, and it's clear Craig bulks up considerably to play Bond. It's possible that dramatic changes in diet, exercise and his body's muscle mass will have a knock-on affect on his testosterone levels, and thus hair."

"I'm sure he doesn't want to lose all his hair like Connery, so he should seek professional advice," said the doc, who offers the £8,000 replacement treatment at his Manchester clinic.

"I think he'd benefit from 2,000 individual follicle grafts from the back of his head, that'd bulk out his temples."

A JACK Russell dog is fighting for life after its tongue was ripped out – by a HAWK.

Four-year-old pet Ollie was enjoying a walk with owner Ian Farquhar when a Harris hawk – which was being trained – struck.

The crazed bird of prey sank its talons into the dog before ripping off his tongue, leaving the pooch "screaming and covered in blood".

Gardener Ian, 47, said: "It happened quite fast, I heard a scuffle and looked down and there was something big and brown attacking Ollie. I tried to kick it but it wouldn't let go.

New Sky Atlantic programme Girls is packed with sex

THE hottest new chick show on the telly is packed with boobs and shagging.

By RACHEL SPENCER
rachel@sundaysport.co.uk

Sky Atlantic's Girls follows the lives of a gang of 20-somethings in New York.

And their antics make the girls on Sex And The City look like a bunch of nuns! It's all about porn, casual sex and boozing for Hannah, the new Carrie Bradshaw, and her pals.

And instead of swanning around in fancy clothes prattling on about men the girls just cut to the chase and have sex!

Hannah, played by actress bum in the very first episode in a sex scene with her sex-buddy Adam, played by Adam Driver, who bonks her doggy style on the couch to console her after her parents announced they were stopping her allowance.

Hooker

In last night's show Hannah was at it again, enjoying role play sex with Adam where she was pretending to be a junkie hooker!

Mamet) isn't quite as forward though. She's left in a quandry when she goes on a date only for him to confess he's a virgin and he does a runner.

And in another story, Hannah takes a trip to the STD clinic as she's worried she's caught a dose from her porn-loving fella.

It's said to be a much more gritty Sex And The City and actress Lena, 26, who is the writer of the series as well as the leading star, says one of the points she wanted to make is that there was nothing wrong with showing off her body.

She's been slated for being a

NAME.....

I'VE been in Spain for the last week or so and the weather was absolutely shit!

So I spent my entire holiday w*nking!

I went on Adultwork and spoke to my fans on the webcam and I reckon I had at least five sessions a day.

Invention

By the time I was flying home my clit was on fire!

Seriously, I needed a rubber ring to sit down on the plane.

I reckon that would be a great invention for girls coming back off Club 18-30 holidays when they've been shagging loads.

The air hostesses could offer a blanket or a sex cushion!

I might invent one and go on Dragon's Den!

EVIL CRIMES OF CHILLING MONSTERS

THIS stuff about Jimmy Savile and Peter Sutcliffe makes my skin crawl.

Now it transpires that Jimmy lived a stone's throw away from where the Yorkshire Ripper's victims were found.

Now what I want to know is were they in cohoots?

Did the Ripper tip off Savile so he could molest the dead bodies?

We already know that Savile had sex with corpses at Leeds General Infirmary and now I think there's every chance he followed the Ripper to satisfy his disgusting urges.

I can't believe this photo of the two of them together grinning like a pair of Cheshire cats at Broadmoor hospital.

I find it so chilling – particularly that Sutcliffe even had a Jimmy Savile shell suit on.

I reckon the pair of them were as thick as thieves.

And I'd love to be able to prove he molested the corpses of the Ripper's victims.

Anguish

But that would mean exhuming the bodies and testing for DNA which I would imagine would be long gone by now.

It would also bring yet more anguish to the families they've left behind too.

It's a shame we can't bring Savile back from the grave to make him pay for the terrible things he did.

But at least now, by speaking out about what happened to them, his victims are able to have some kind of closure on what he did.

● TO celebrate Bonfire Night I made my own Guy out of a potato sack and newspaper and stuck a Jimmy Savile mask on it.

I can't think of anyone I'd like to see burned at the stake more. Our local paper put masks in for all their readers so on Monday night there was loads of them going up in flames.

I'M heartbroken about Hurricane Sandy and the devastation she's wreaked in New York.

I love America, it's such an amazing place and the people are just so lovely.

I went backpacking to New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Washington when I was a teenager and spent a lot of time in Staten Island which has been the worst hit.

Thinking about the poor people who have lost everything is awful. But the one thing you can say about the Americans is they won't take this lying down.

They'll rise from this, just like they did after September 11.

By the time you read this the US election will be over. I hope Obama has won.

He's only had four years in power and what he's done for the American people is amazing.

He's got rid of Osama Bin Laden for starters, smashed up Al Qaeda, ended the war in Iraq and done loads for 9/11 victims and womens right too.

I didn't like Romney, he seems full of st – and his wife has a face like a washed up old bra. I'm Obama all the way.

I WAS working at Red Light Central over the weekend and there was plenty of fireworks I can tell you!

Me, Cathy Barry and Lynda Leigh (pictured here) were all on together and we had a right laugh on the night shift.

We all used to go out on the Sunday Sport roadshow and had a good old cackle about the fun we used to have.

It was like we were the three witches in Macbeth, and I can tell you, with us three in the room together, the air certainly was filthy!

I'm back on Red Light Central tonight (Wednesday) on Channel 932 and on Saturday and Sunday too.

BUS WNKER!

for funeral day before quarry death plunge

A DEPRESSED man paid cash up front for his own funeral before jumping to his death at a quarry, an inquest heard.

Edward Sutton, 53, disappeared the day after arranging the send-off and his body was found two weeks later – along with suicide notes at his home in Bolton, Greater Manchester.

Funeral worker Hannah Bidwell said Mr Sutton had paid in cash on July 27.

She said: "He asked me what would happen if he paid for his funeral by credit or debit card and then went out and got hit by a bus. I told him he would not be covered."

The day after paying, Mr Sutton, a keen walker who was described as "a kind and considerate man", went missing.

His body was found by a group of youths two weeks later on August 10, at the foot of Cox Green Quarry in nearby Egerton.

Mr Sutton's disappearance was reported to Lancashire Police, who visited his home and found notes.

Pathologist Dr Angelia Ong said he died from multiple injuries and would have been unconscious on impact.

Mr Sutton had been suffering from anxiety and depression said his GP, Dr Mammen Ninan, and had told him that he had been considering taking his own life.

Dr Ninan arranged urgent referrals to mental health experts for Mr Sutton and he did access some of the help on offer.

Coroner Jennifer Leeming recorded a verdict that Mr Sutton took his own life while the balance of his mind was disturbed.

Pervert banned from all top decks after he knocked one out on the Number 14

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

A MAN has been banned from the top decks of all buses and trams in the United Kingdom after he was caught masturbating.

Unemployed Michael Taylor, 49, was found guilty of indecently exposing himself after a court heard he pulled his pud in front of a girl on the upper deck of a bus.

Prosecutor, Pam Smith, said that about 4pm on July 13 this year, the 17-year-old was on the top deck of the number 14 bus from Blackpool to Fleetwood.

Looking

She saw that Taylor had his jeans round his hips. He was committing a sex act and kept looking at her.

The teenager was picked up off the bus by her grandmother and they alerted police.

Robert Castle, defending, told the judge that Taylor had denied that he indecently exposed himself and said he had been scratching an operation scar at the top of his thigh.

District Judge Jeff Brailsford, sitting at Blackpool Magistrates' Court, told Taylor: "I do not accept there was anything accidental about what you did.

"You did what you did for your own sexual gratification and put the young lady through an awful ordeal."

Taylor was placed on the Sex Offenders' Register for seven years and made the subject of an indefinite Sexual Offences Prevention Order which bans him from the top decks of public transport.

He was also sentenced to six months imprisonment, suspended for two years, given a four months' curfew from 7pm to 7am, put on two years' supervision and ordered to pay £200 compensation to his victim plus £100 costs.

LAWYER HAD IT OUT OF HIS BRIEFS

He exposed himself to woman while asking her for directions

A TRAINEE lawyer who exposed himself in his car after asking a female passer-by for directions has been handed a community order.

Undergraduate James Coffey, 20, touched himself while speaking to the 21-year-old woman while he asked her the way to a station.

The woman, who can't be named for legal reasons, said she felt "disgusted" when she realised he was fiddling with himself.

Coffey apologised and drove away after she "jumped back" in shock in the road at Totteridge, north London.

"He started asking her for directions and she noticed that his hands, which were originally in plain view, went down to his lap.

"She thought this was weird but did not look down and continued the himself in to police, and in interview admitted he was at the scene and asking for directions but insisted he "certainly did not do what she said I did".

HEL'S BELLES!

The boobs that got Corrie Rosie actress all excited

By RACHEL SPENCER rachel@sundaysport.co.uk

THESE are the enormous boobs that had I'm a Celeb... babe Helen Flanagan lusting on Twitter.

Helen, 22, famous as wildchild Rosie Webster in Coronation Street, was filming her new project The Boyfriend Diaries with busty Casey Batchelor this week.

And afterwards she tweeted Casey, pictured left in her topless glory, and her actress pal Alice Franklin and said: "Beautiful girls @CaseyBatchelor @msalicefranklin"

Casey replied: "Awww and u as well gorgeous. Lovely working with u xx"

Casey, Alice and Helen are all working on the movie, currently being filmed in London.

And we can see why they got on so well because they have plenty in common – good looks and big boobs!

Feminine

Casey, 27, from Waltham Abbey, Essex, has a jaw dropping 34GG pair while Helen has an impressive 32E rack too.

Casey says she loves her massive boobs. She said: "I think they're amazingly sexy and make every outfit feminine.

"I reckon I'm the only girl who still shows a cleavage even when they're wearing a roll neck jumper!"

And she says her massive chest means she never has to wait for a drink. She said: "I don't think I've ever waited longer than 30 seconds to get served at the bar!"

Life for killer car cokehead

A DRIVER who snorted 70 LINES of cocaine before mowing down an innocent pedestrian has been jailed for life.

Stephen Freye, 22, climbed into his car to go looking for a victim to run over late at night and spotted a young chef walking home.

Father-of-one Kyle Griffith, 25, was on the pavement going home from his restaurant when Freye aimed his car at him – killing him instantly.

Freye claimed he was hallucinating after sniffing a bag of 10 grammes of cocaine over a weekend.

Cardiff Crown court heard Freye confessed to police at the scene: "I was told to kill a stranger."

Freye, of Roath, Cardiff, denied murder but was found guilty following a two week trial.

The judge said he would serve a minimum of 13 years behind bars.

BURLESQUE BEAUTIES!

VIKKI BLOWS

AGE 24. 30D-22-34

I LOVE Dita Von Teese. She's so sexy and that's how I first got into burlesque after seeing one of her shows.

"Now I love splashing out on sexy lingerie sets for my shows.

"I like corsets and I have so many different pairs of stockings and heels that I could open my own shop!

"I think men should gently encourage their girlfriends to try the burlesque look.

"As a woman it makes you feel a million dollars and the guys love it too."

PARIS HILTON

THE sexy socialite might not have Kelly's curves but she still strutted her stuff during a stint of shows at the Pussycat Lounge in Las Vegas in 2008.

Paris, 31, sang and danced in this slinky leather number – then stripped to a diamanté bra and knickers and jumped into a giant champagne glass.

KELLY BROOK

TOP pin-up Kelly has dressed up in all sorts – from slinky red corsets and a blonde wig to a raunchy black bodysuit – for her lead role in the Forever Crazy show.

The ex-Big Breakfast presenter, 32, ends her performance reclining on a pair of red lips wearing nothing but a pair of stockings!

SCARLETT JOHANSSON

THIS busty beauty poured her ample boobs into a studded basque to perform with the Pussycat Dolls in 2004.

The Girl With A Pearl Earring actress, 27, appeared on stage with the girls at the Viper Rooms in Hollywood when she was an up-and-coming actress.

KIM KARDASHIAN

THE stunning reality TV star joined the Pussycat Dolls on stage earlier this year and loved wiggling her curvy bum for the crowds.

The 32-year-old babe dressed up as a sexy sailor and sadly kept most of her curves covered up at the show at Pure nightclub in Las Vegas.

GORGEOUS Kelly Brook has made the dreams of her fans come true – by starring in a raunchy burlesque show.

The model and actress joins a long list of sexy showbiz babes to don stockings and nipple tassles to perform the sexy striptease.

Kelly is in Forever Crazy on London's South Bank, a spin-off from the Crazy Horse show, a favourite of burlesque fans in Paris.

And Kelly, 32, says pulling on her fishnets has made her feel HOTTER than ever!

She said: "I keep taking clothes off until I get down to my lingerie.

"One of the loveliest aspects of burlesque is women of all shapes and sizes expressing themselves. Many performers are really curvy and that's fantastic."

Women are getting into burlesque by visiting her show and splashing out on lingerie to recreate the sexy outfits.

Today we celebrate the celebrity beauties who have stripped to their nipple tassles in a tribute to the French art.

CARMEN ELECTRA

THE Baywatch babe started out as one of the original Pussycat Dolls in the 1990s before finding fame with David Hasselhoff's lifeguards.

The 40-year-old actress still goes back to the group for the odd appearance and also stars with the Las Vegas Crazy Horse dancers, who she appeared topless with in this snap.

CHARLIZE THERON

THE Snow White and the Huntsman actress dressed up in 1940s style outfit to perform with the Pussycat Dolls in Las Vegas

TOMMIE JO AGE 25, 32E-26-36

"I LOVE the theatrical element of it all. I put on a sexy basque, then lingerie underneath, then nipple tassles that I leave on right until the end.

"I do a sexy strip show that goes on for ages – and by the end my fella is beside himself with horniess!

"I think it's something all girls should have a try at, even if it's just dressing up in lovely lingerie and heels in bed. It's great that Kelly Brook is making this mainstream."

Playboy ads told to truck off and die!

A STRING of adverts for Playboy TV that plastered scantily-clad models over HGVs have been banned for being 'sexually provocative'.

Playboy bosses paid for ads on scores of lorries telling onlookers to retune Freeview TV boxes to get Playboy TV.

One 12ft-high ad showed four blondes with 'ample cleavage'.

Another, on the rear doors of a truck, had a woman leaning back on a chair seductively while wearing a latex bodice, high heels and stockings.

A third showed a woman 'touching her exposed bottom cheek'.

The Advertising Standards Authority received one complaint that said the ads were 'overtly sexual' and so unsuitable for public display.

ASA chiefs upheld the complaint and banned the ads.

Their report said: "We considered that the poses were sexually provocative."

Gays can get Just-in Bieber with new doll

GAY fans of teenage hearthrob Justin Bieber will be screaming the title of his biggest hit Baby after getting their hands on a SEX DOLL of the star.

And, according to sources, the 18-year-old superstar, who has been turned into the 'anatomically correct' Just-In Beaver model for gay men, is furious.

A topless Justin Bieber lookalike features on the front of the box, with various cringeworthy slogans.

One reads: "I wanna be your boy boy" while another says: "Beaver tells all" and makes reference to his long-term girlfriend Selena Gomez.

The Bieber doll has been produced by Yank firm Pipedream – who have already released other inflatable sex partners based on Katy Perry, Pamela Anderson and Kim Kardashian.

But insiders claim Bieber's legal team are already hard at work to get the product banned from the shelves.

The £20-a-time doll is now "out of stock" on the company's website.

Punter sues over sex swap shock

A KINKY S&M dominatrix is being sued for compo after a punter discovered she was a BLOKE.

Horrified Mike Koller contacted "Lady Gina" on the internet after getting curious about bondage.

He said: "In our web chat, Lady Gina assured me she was real and, of course, she was a woman.

"But when I arrived, a man opened the door. I was held, pushed down the stairs, and was going to be locked in the cellar."

Mike, 30, managed to flee to a nearby kebab shop and begged for help.

Shop owner Mehmet Solar said: "I was just about to close up, and he came in wearing a torn T-shirt with his trousers round his knees. He asked

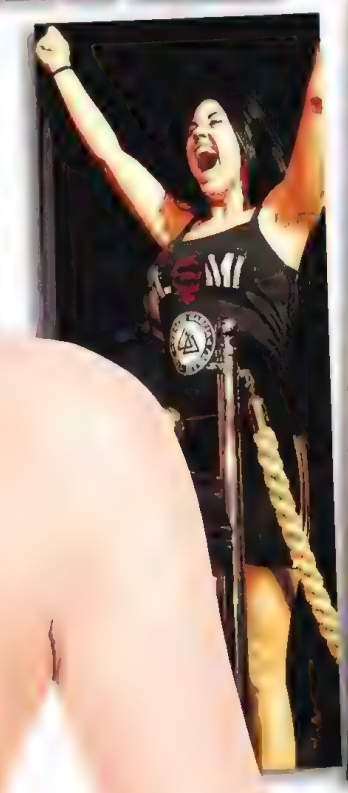
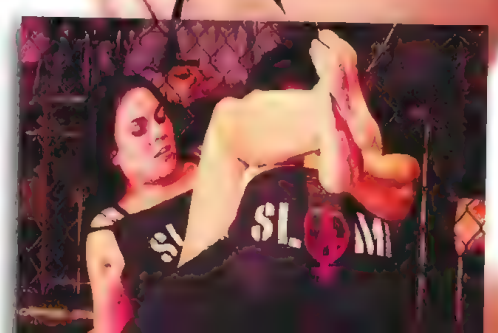
FIGHT PICS: JR FOTOGRAPHY



IN THE RING: Monica gives Farina West a good pummeling in her most recent fight



Model Monica Harris left in agony after brutal match

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

A MODEL cage fighter was blind in one eye for three days after having her face 'smashed in' during a punishing bout.

Knockout Monica Harris has a double life as a brutal Mixed Martial Arts brawler.

And last week the 32C topless pin-up fought arch rival Farina West in a bruising encounter for Fightscene MMA.

After three bone-shattering rounds – each lasting five long minutes – Monica emerged triumphant after a unanimous decision from the judges, winning thanks to a Rear Naked Choke hold.

But the victory at London's Troxy Arena was hard-won – as Monica's left eye was left so BRUISED and bloated she couldn't see anything out of it for THREE DAYS.

The 32-year-old, from Newcastle, revealed: "I was thrilled to win the contest but I was in agony. Farina was no easy opponent.

"My face was properly smashed in and I couldn't see anything out of my eye.

"I thought I'd gone BLIND until the swelling started to subside. It was terrifying.

"I'm fighting again in a few weeks and I'll make sure I'm ready. It'll take more than a black eye to floor me!"

Bantam weight Monica, who says her special move is a thunderous right hook, also trains in boxing and Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu, making her one of the HARDEST girls in Britain.

Monica, who runs her own fight promotion firm Models Fight UK, added: "Modelling and fighting don't exactly go hand in hand – you get your

THERE was a shocking confession from Ken Barlow on Coronation Street.

"Haven't you heard," he declared, "I'm an aggressive, predatory sex pest!"

At first I assumed he must have worked at Radio 1 in the 1970s. Well, he's had every other job on the planet.

In fact he was being sarcastic after old flame Wendy Crozier falsely accused him of trying it on.

"He cornered me!" she wailed.

So what? Even if Ken Barlow does corner you, the worst you'll get a half-hour lecture on the construction of Stockport Viaduct.

Meanwhile, Gloria's scam to win Pub of the Year award for the Rovers Return ended badly after they discovered she had fabricated glowing reviews from made-up customers.

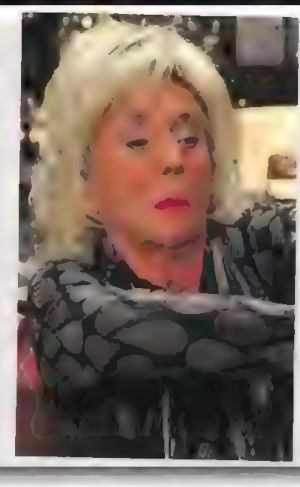
One of them was "Mustafa O'Shaughnessy", which was a bit of a giveaway. As if an Irish Muslim would be drinking in the Rovers.

He'd be lucky to get past security at Manchester Airport.

Busybody Norris said he wanted Gloria (right) "publicly shamed" for her sins. I think there are special websites for that sort of thing, Nozza.

Mary went even further, saying she deserved to be "hung, drawn and quartered", which even Norris deemed excessive.

After all, Manchester is not under Sharia Law just yet – no matter how much Mustafa O'Shaughnessy wills it.



● X FACTOR host Dermot O'Leary had to apologise for "coarse language" from contestants during the Sunday night show.

Don't worry, Derm. My kids are used to hearing coarse language in our house, mainly when this shite is on.

The latest singer to be axed was Kye. Or, as he shall henceforth be known after wearing that Colonel Sander-style dangly bow tie, "Kye FC".

And cruise ship crooner Christopher Maloney continues to defy the odds by surviving another week.

You can tell the producers want rid – they won't even let him take off his coat to sing.

LAST week I compared Derren Brown's Apocalypse to the unlamented prank show Beadle's About.

After watching the second half I now realise that was unfair. To Beadle's About.

At least Beadle's pranks had a "reveal", the money shot in which the victim suddenly realised he was being wound up.

The Apocalypse gag (they convinced some poor sap the world was ending, ho-ho) ended with hypnotist Brown using a special word to make his victim fall asleep.

Apocalypse? A pot of sh*t.

● ITV1 dating show Take Me Out saw sexy Tonia do her "human drum machine" party trick.

I love to see a woman beat box. But some of them think that is too kinky.

ON the Sunday edition of Strictly Come Dancing, Brendan Cole pretended to "motorboat" judge Darcy Bussell during the opening dance (below).

What a waste of time that would be. She is more putt-putt-putt than wubba-wubba-wubba.

Now Tess Daly, in this red dress that she wore on Saturday night, is another matter...

Even Sugar cannot find this lot sweet

YOUNG Apprentice returned to BBC1 with the usual parade of lads wearing their dad's suit.

Well, most of them. Patrick McDowell, a budding fashion designer, appeared to be wearing his nan's curtains instead.

Sadly, Lord Sugar did not tell the little twerp to "pull himself together", which was odd because he did every other Dad Joke in the book.

That is not a criticism, by the way.

Nookie Bear's "friendly uncle" schtick is one of the most entertaining parts of this show, which is otherwise a pale imitation of the original.

Just watching his face when he tries to smile is a joy. The old grump looks more like he is passing a walnut-sized gallstone.

And the fact that he tries to play nice just makes it all the more fun when he cannot resist a sly dig.

When young Patrick "designed" a wetsuit-ballgown combination, and Sugar snapped: "Is this for a cocktail party on the Titanic?"

Luckily for us, he will have plenty of opportunities to get a few more digs in over the coming weeks. Because the contestants, as usual, are ripe for it.

All fluent in bullshit, these whippersnappers smarm around with fancy job titles like "private tutor", "public speaker" and "vintage clothing entrepreneur".

Or, as you or I might have put it: "does little brother's homework", "reads out the netball results in school assembly", "once helped out at church jumble sale".

This lot don't need taking down a peg or two. They need strangling with the washing line.

But that won't happen. Instead they will probably go on to be hugely successful, partly because they have clearly got bags of ambition and a go-getting attitude.

But mainly because they are friendless cts who will never be led astray when they should be doing their homework.

So my advice to viewers is to laugh it up while we still can.

Ignore Lord Sugar's nicey-nicey approach and call them every name under the sun, because in 20 years there will only be one word you can call them – "Boss."

THE ITV1 documentary Jonathan and Charlotte was about the teenage singers who wowed Britain's Got Talent.

What do you mean, "Who?"

Surely you remember their amazing vocal range, their chemistry, their timing?

No? OK, they were the ones that looked like a fat(ter) Meat Loaf and his carer.

We saw the pair on a trip around Europe's opera hotspots.

Let's hope they were not flying Ryanair because Jonathan was carrying a lot of excess baggage – mainly Charlotte, who seems a lovely girl but is clearly no opera star.

In Italy they visited a famous mosaic of a bull that is said to bring good luck to those who spin on it.

"If our album sells," said Charlotte: "It is due to the bull on the floor."

They had been hill-walking. What did you think she meant?

Jack is her real boyfriend but Phil is her fake fiancée.

"looks like a sty". Well that should help convince them that Sharon, aka Miss Piggy, lives there.

In a rare moment of self-awareness, Phil wondered if he was the right person to be raising another child.

Midweek tweethearts

IT has been a busy week on Twitter with hundreds of saucy new pics posted by lusty lasses.

From celebs to our very own Sport models, there are dozens of snaps of boobs and bums all over the social networking site.

TOWIE star Chloe Sims posted a sizzling pic of her doing an underwear shoot this week that shows off plenty of her ample 34DD assets.

And she's not the only reality TV star who has been uploading scantily clad shots – MTV's Geordie Shore babe Sophie Kasaei showcased her figure in a tiny pink silk dress and garter.

Mischief

Our very own Khennah Fossey was up to all sorts of mischief in her kitchen – wearing nothing but a bra and knickers and a skimpy t-shirt covering her 32F charms.

While juicy Jemma Henley left her Twitter fans desperate for more when she showed off most of her mouth-watering 30G cleavage – but left her nipples just about covered by her electric blue bra.

And if that wasn't enough, 30DD saucy minx Kitty Lea treated everyone to a sizzling topless snap with diamante pink hearts on her nipples.

REALITY TV dimwit Chantelle Houghton reckons she came home one day while eight months pregnant to find Alex Reid dressed in her underwear, watching porn, surrounded by dildos and begging for sex.

He's not alone – I also tried a pair of my missus's knickers once, too.

I looked like a fing hammock had snapped beneath me.

Finding a Savile supporter can be murder!

YOU know you're in trouble when the only person prepared to stand up for you is doing so from the high security wing of an institution packed to the gunwales with mentalists.

Even more worrying, the most vocal supporter of dead kiddie-fiddler Jimmy Savile has a slight touch of infamy about him, too.

For Peter Sutcliffe is of course otherwise known across the planet as the Yorkshire Ripper – he who butchered 13 women to death with a hammer and screwdriver and tried to kill seven more.

So probably not the "go to guy" when you need someone to put down as a reference on your passport application form, then.

The latest revelations about Jim'll Licks It – revealed first in this week's Sunday Sport – are that he and the Ripper may have been accomplices in the infamous murder spree of the late 1970s.

MURDERER: Sutcliffe

Truth

Sutcliffe, meanwhile, once called "a nice guy" by Savile, says the claims about the former Radio One jockey are "a load of rubbish".

Whether we'll ever know the full truth is almost impossible to say – especially when you consider the only man alive who was actually there lives in a world not entirely dissimilar to One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest.

Nutcase Sutcliffe claimed he was spurred on to kill by "voices" inside his head. Whether those voices said "jingle something the cops might have to ask him about.

I just question whether a police statement from a Broadmoor patient with a predilection for hammering and screwdriving women to death would be considered in any way valid.

Sexy Danielle is just perfect

By ISOBEL DICKINSON izzy@sundaysport.co.uk

OUR cousins across the pond will be saying "Yanks for the mammaries" after getting one of Britain's hottest exports.

Because sexy Danielle Riley – who moved from Manchester to New York City in 2001 – isn't just a stunning model with amazing all-natural boobs, she's a talented singer and guitarist as well.

When she's performing she calls herself Dani Danger – but it's the sight of her 30H chest that really hits all the right notes.

Performing

But she has been making waves in the American alternative music scene – with her self-penned songs Rain and Hit The Bricks earning her a nomination for Motif magazine's singer/songwriter of the year.

The 23-year-old said: "I love performing – whether that's taking my clothes off for the camera or singing one of my songs.

"To me they are the same thing. I want to connect with an audience and get a reaction – and lets face it, these boobs get a hell of a reaction!"

DONNA EWIN

NICE FARE: Cabbie Donna the model and movie star

NOW here's one cabbie we wouldn't mind giving a large tip – delicious Donna Ewin!

Yes, that's right folks – after retiring from modelling, gorgeous Donna successfully passed "The Knowledge" test and can now be found driving a black cab around London.

But back in the day she was one of Britain's favourite glamour girls, having joined the Yvonne Paul Management agency when she was 17.

Donna, who was born on June 4, 1970, originally modelled under the name Nina Downe, an anagram of her real name.

But as her fame grew she reverted back to Donna and had a huge career as a model and actress throughout the late 1980s and early 90s.

Known as "The Body" on account of her superb 5ft 9ins frame and incredible all-natural 41D boobs, Donna soon found herself in popular girls on the circuit.

She also appeared in many top magazines including Mayfair, Penthouse and Playboy, and appeared uncredited as "Masked Buxom Girl" in the famous orgy scene in Stanley Kubrick's last film Eyes Wide Shut in 1999, alongside Tom Cruise and Nicole Kidman.

Television

Donna, now 42, also appeared regularly in the BBC's Fast Show on both television and live stage shows, notably in the "Mr and Mrs Shag" sketch, and she also featured in 1991 computer game Cover Girl Strip Poker.

She stays in touch with fellow former Page 3 stunnas Corinne Russell and Jenny Blyth and regularly exchanges chats with the 2,000 plus friends on her open Facebook page.

Teacher had a lesbo romp with student

A MARRIED female teacher faces jail over a lesbo sex scandal involving a student.

Mum-of-three Jodi Kellish had a steamy relationship with a 17-year-old girl who was supposed to be helping her mark papers.

As many as FOUR students also claimed Kellish, 38, gave them booze and fags at her home and school.

The blonde (above) showed no emotion in court as she pleaded no contest to unlawful sexual conduct and contributing to the delinquency of a student in Newcomers Town, Ohio.

She will be sentenced in January.

Asked what would have been revealed if the case had gone to trial, prosecutor Daniel Padden said: "The charges would reveal that there was a sexual relationship between the defendant and a student in addition to providing alcohol and or cigarettes to various students."

Lady lodger laid 3 teens

A SEX-crazed lodger had a FOURSOME with her landlady's underage son and his pals.

Rachel Hart had an ongoing affair with the boy starting when he was 14 while renting a room from his mum.

Hart, 24, initially claimed the boy had forced himself on her but eventually admitted the sex was consensual.

The lad told cops she also romped one night with him and two of his friends, aged 15 and 16.

Hart claimed she was drunk and had passed out in the middle of the orgy.

She did not remember giving the boys consent to have sex with her.

But Hart, of Dunnellon

Telly troupe haunted by cursed doll

BRITAIN'S Got Talent stars Circus of Horrors reckon they're being HEXED by a CURSED doll.

The controversial troupe shot to fame after making to the final of last year's show.

But they're worried a doll they use as a prop is trying to KILL them.

Ringleader Dr Haze said: "We bought this puppet from America and a lot of things went wrong on our last tour.

"It took time for people to make the connection but a lot of the crew believe that our dolls were cursed.

"The bad stuff was mostly transport issues, but it was always the vehicle with the dolls in that broke down. Even when we got a new vehicle it wouldn't start.

"We moved to the dolls to a new minibus, but the engine blew out that as well.

"We put the dolls into ANOTHER minibus and that span out of control while we were on the road, almost killing everyone inside.

"Everyone was flying about, but the doll was just sat in the back seat with his feet up."

Guitar death has ministers fretting

A PASTOR was clobbered to death by an electric guitar after a deranged man rammed his car into his church.

Tragic Danny Kirk was attacked by the man after he went out to see why had driven his car into the building.

The man then chased him into the church and when police arrived they found Kirk on the floor, being beaten with the instrument.

Officers Tasered the attacker and arrested him but by then Kirk was already dead.

Reginal Wilson, a minister at Sweethome Baptist Church, who worked with Mr Kirk said: "Our hearts are heavy."

HEAD THE BALLS FOOTIE'S LOONIEST CHARACTERS

MARIO BASLER

NOW the footie season is in full flow you can enjoy watching the sport's pampered prima donnas.

But in our Head The Balls feature, we're reminding you of the violent nutters, randy rebels and peacocking playboys who over the years have graced the beautiful game with their presence.

Every week we'll be looking at a different one of the sport's most mental mavericks.

And this week it's chain-smoking German Mario Basler.

MAD BAS-TARD: Mario loved fags, beer... and the odd bit of football

By JON LIVESEY

jonl@sundaysport.co.uk

FORGET oranges and energy drinks – Mario Basler preferred a half-time fag!

And if a manager ever pulled him up on his chain smoking, binge drinking, wild partying or laid-back attitude to training, his response was always the same: "You knew what you were buying."

The issue was that he was right. They knew they were buying an exciting winger, who was one of the most naturally-gifted players of his generation.

They also knew they were buying a loony.

Born in Rhineland-Palatinate, Basler started his career at FC Kaiserslautern, but took a step down, joining Bundesliga 2 side Rot-Weiss Essen and then Hertha Berlin, also in the second tier.

Even then concerns over his attitude were distracting from his ability.

Coach Bernd Stange, who played Basler in defence, said he was "world-class up to his neck but non-league above it."

Flourish

But, after being moved into midfield by Stange's replacement, Gunter Sebert, he excelled, convincing German champions Werder Bremen to fork out £800,000 for his services.

Under the management of Otto Rehhagel – who even let Basler devise his own training plan – the winger continued to flourish, developing into one of the best players in Germany.

But his decision to stick his finger up at his own fans – who he branded "clueless" – signalled the end of his time at Werder, and in 1996 he joined

His assessment was: "Fifteen out of 20 players at this club are glad to see me go."

Basler was part of the Euro 96-winning German squad, and although an ankle injury prevented him from playing any part, it didn't stop him enjoying himself, as he later revealed players were allowed to shag during the tournament and he regularly smoked and drank.

In the 1996/97 season, Basler helped Bayern to the title, but the following campaign was less successful as they lost out to newly-promoted Kaiserslautern.

Under increasing pressure, boss Giovanni Trapattoni lost patience with Basler and took things into his own hands.

In April 1998, Bild newspaper ran a front page reporting that Bayern had even hired a private detective – or instructed a club lacky – to spy on Basler in his spare time.

On the international front, there was more disappointment as injury ruled Basler out of the France 1998 World Cup, and even though he'd turned 30, he showed no signs of calming down.

And when he was recalled to the national side, he hardly grabbed the bull by the horns.

In fact, he was reported to have drunk, smoked and gambled until 6am on the day of the game.

His remaining time at Bayern was up and down; he helped them to another title, but was part of the team that lost the Champions League final to Manchester United in 1999.

Basler put the result out of revealing: "The 1-2 for me was forgotten."

Before leaving Bayern, he found time to attract a fine for visiting a nightclub two days prior to a match and managed to get into a fight in a restaurant after reacting angrily to someone who'd tried to take a photograph of him balancing a wine bottle on his head.

He saw out his playing days at Kaiserslautern and Al Rayyan in Qatar, and since retiring he's had a number of coaching jobs in Germany, where he continues to rub people up the wrong way.

Entertainment

Former Germany boss Rudi Voller said: "Instead of drinking five half-litre bottles of beer and smoking a pack of Marlboros in 10 minutes, he would have been better off listening to what trainers had to say now and then.

"He got far too little out of

'I love foreplay the best... like being kissed and licked all over!'

By ALICE WALKER
alice@sundaysport.co.uk

BRUNETTE babe Annie Bullah is a saucy minx who loves nothing better than a weekend-long bonking marathon!

The 32F Essex stunna has given us her rudest interview yet and admits she's a fan of backdoor action.

Annie, 24, from Loughton says she's pretty much up for anything in the sack so we put her to the test to find out just how naughty she really is.

So read on for her no-holds barred filthy chat.

WHAT'S YOUR ULTIMATE FANTASY?
For some reason I have always wanted to have sex in the snow! The thought of it really turns me on.

Obviously it would be really cold but I'd wrap up warm and afterwards we could have a nice long hot bath together. Apparently we're in for a really cold winter this year so I must just get the chance to fulfil my fantasy!

WHAT'S YOUR FAVOURITE SEX POSITION?
Definitely me on top. When it comes to sex I like being the one in control. I like it a bit rough and being on top means I can go wild. I'll try anything once and I reckon I've tried pretty much every position there is but none of them come close to me on top!

DO YOU HAVE A HIGH SEX DRIVE?
Yes! I love sex and I like it every day. Sex is the best thing in the whole world. I love foreplay the best – I like being kissed and licked all over. Sometimes me and my boyfriend will plan a whole weekend of shagging. It's the best! We both love being experimental and trying new things.

HAVE YOU EVER BEEN CAUGHT IN THE ACT?
Unfortunately yes! Me and my fella planned a 48-hour bonk-fest – but we only made it to the 24 hour mark because his parents turned up and spoilt our fun. The Saturday was a blast – we closed the curtains and romped all day! We tried it in every position possible in every room of the flat. On the Sunday morning we mid-bonk when the doorbell rang. I was gutted!

ARE YOU INTO SEX TOYS?
Not really, I must admit I prefer the real thing.

THE LOWDOWN

DOES SIZE MATTER?
Yes! I always want a big willy – why have a hamburger when you can have a Big Mac!

KNICKERS OR THONGS?
Thongs definitely

BRAZILIAN OR HOLLYWOOD?
I like to mix it up. At the moment I've got nothing at all but I'm considering growing it all again.

NATURAL OR FAKE?

SHOW & TELL with ANNIE BULLAH

A dildo can't compare with a big juicy willy. I don't really understand solo sex – I'd rather have a fella do it for me!

DO YOU LIKE GIVING BLOW JOBS?
Yes, weird as it sounds I actually quite like giving them. Although I find it quite intimate so I would only do it with a man I love. Sometimes I spit and sometimes I swallow, depending on what mood I'm in.

ANYTHING YOU WON'T DO IN THE SACK?
Not that I can think of. I'm up for anything! I think it's good to be experimental. If I try something and don't like it then I don't need to do it again but at least I can say I've given it a go!

ARE YOU INTO BUM FUN?
Yes! The bottom was made for more than one purpose. It's not something I do all the time but if I'm in the right mood I'm up for it.

HAVE YOU EVER HAD A LESBO FROLIC?
Not really unless you count a cheeky drunken snog! I find girls sexy to look at but I have never really acted on it. Girls have softer lips but to be honest I prefer a bit of stubble.

WHAT ABOUT KINKY STUFF?
Oh yes, definitely. I love being a bit kinky. Nothing too over the top – just handcuffs and blindfolds and stuff. I love tying my man up and then letting him to the same to me, it makes me really horny. I can be both dominating and submissive depending on what mood I'm in.

Love-crazy boozer 'stole underwear'

A MAN obsessed with a young woman allegedly broke into her parents' home and demanded bras and knickers belonging to her while high on a cocktail of booze and drugs.

Love-crazed Jose Hernandez-Ordonez told cops he was drunk and on cocaine when he broke into the apartment, where the woman lives with her parents and sister.

When questioned by officers, he said he was "crazy in love" with the woman and had gone to her home to announce his true feelings.

When he got there, he found her 10-year-old sister home alone.

The girl told police Hernandez-Ordonez, 22, broke in through a window, said he had a gun and threatened to shoot her.

He allegedly told her to get him six pairs of her sister's knickers and six bras. He also said he planned to kill her sister's boyfriend.

Hernandez-Ordonez, of Wisconsin was charged with burglary, armed robbery, intimidation of a victim and bail-jumping by police.

Woman 'fed dog bleach and pills'

A WOMAN is facing jail amid claims she tortured her boyfriend's dog for months before killing it.

Sean Janas is accused of forcing the pooch – a four-year-old German Shepherd-Labrador cross – to drink bleach and tablets before slitting its throat.

And it's alleged that she kept a chilling record of the abuse in her diary.

She's been charged with animal cruelty and faces up to five years jail.

Janas, 20, was arrested after her boyfriend found the diary. In it, she is alleged to have wrote: "The pleasure I get from watching her whimper in pain and cry for help as I shove Drano and bleach down her throat is like

It's great getting up in the morning and putting on a fresh pair of panties. I buy dozens of pairs at a time... big sensible ones, pretty lacy ones, tiny tongs, trendy shorts... anything that takes my fancy really...I spend a fortune on them.

But for every pound I spend a make about three pounds cos once I've worn them one I bag them up and sell them to guys from all over the world who want to sniff them and enjoy the aroma of my frou-frou! LOL!

I'm also quite juicy so when I've word a pair for a whole day at work and then maybe an hour in the gym and 45 minutes on a crowded bus you'll be getting your money's worth! Call me and I'll tell you all about it...and them!

NYMPHO MILFS PROVE OLDER'S MUCH BOLDER

Dear Morgan,

WHAT people say about older women is true – they DO know what they're doing in bed.

And, not to put too fine a point on it, they are usually pretty eager for a shag.

I'm 24 but I have always gone for the older women and until recently I was in a relationship with a 52-year-old divorced mum who was a beast in bed.

Since we split up I have got the horn for older, tarty-looking sorts.

Last week in a club I was eyeing up a couple of tasty-looking women in their 40s.

Curvy

One was a curvy brunette with with enormous tits, the other a somewhat more mousy creature who, nevertheless, had a knowing look that made me think she would be dynamite in the sack.

I got them up dancing and when the club was closing I took them back to my place for more drinks.

It wasn't long before we were all naked in my giant bed.

At first I was just getting it on with the curvy gal and thought the other one wasn't interested.

But I was wrong because after a while I felt her hand cup my balls as I scorched into her pal from behind. From there she managed to get my plums in her mouth – quite a feat as I have a rather large sack!

After that I hoisted her on to the Jolly Roger and biffed her up against a mirror.

Then the two of them put on a lesbo show.

Once they had gone beyond necking and fondling each other's breasts they had their fingers working furiously on one another's love holes.

That got me going again and I fed each of them in turn as they licked out their mate.

Before we passed out I remember one of them crouching over the other's face while I w*nked over them.

In the morning they made me a sizzling full English brekkie and treated me like a king.

I can't imagine that happening with a lass my own age.

I see them both regularly and it's always a top shagging session.

They say they want to share me and are asking me not to see other women.

I'm not sure about the whole set-up. What do you think?

DC, Leicester

Morgan says:

THEY want a sex slave. Don't let them chain you up.

Dear Morgan,

I'M a single dad of 28 and I moved house to get my son into a better school.

Soon after he started I spotted one of his teachers in the playground, so I asked her how he was settling in.

This woman was tall and blonde with superb tits and a short skirt that showed off her great legs.

I was amazed when I recognised her as the woman who works in a pub I sometimes go to.

When I next called in, I found her behind the bar and the only other customers finishing off a game of pool.

We got talking and she explained that she had to do bar work to make ends meet.

Sucked

And talking of ends meeting, after she finished work she invited me to her flat where she dived on me – revealing my dick which was raring to go.

She sucked on me like it was an Olympic event and I made sure she was happy too by lapping on her shaved fanny until her juices ran down my chin.

With that, she turned around and guided me inside her for a rattling good shag.

But I'm a bit embarrassed about meeting her at a parents' evening.

What do you suggest?

VJ, Bangor

Morgan says:

AS long as your homework satisfied her, I see no problem.

surgery is a stunna. She's blonde and has huge tits which she likes to show off.

The last time I went I was battling to hide my boner. A couple of days later I saw her in town and pulled her.

I said we could go to my place, but she insisted that we go to the surgery.

She stripped off to her thong and bra and told me to lie on the chair. She got my knob out and sucked me off.

Just as I was about to climax she wrapped her 36Ds around my cock and let me spunk over them.

Then it was her turn in the chair. My eager tongue probed her moist love-box and I had her in a frenzy of lust as I licked her clit.

Hard

It wasn't long before her pussy juice was dripping towards her bumhole.

By that time I was rock hard again and I started to f* her. She was screaming: "Give me a filling, baby!"

Later on she asked me to take her up the arse while wearing the dentist's garb, complete with a face mask.

I thought it was a bit weird but I wasn't going to miss out.

Now she's about to leave the area and I'm gutted.

She wants me to go with her, but I've got a good job here. What do you think I should do?

OL, Hereford

Morgan says:

THIS girl sounds great and very kinky. I'm sure you could find another job, so be bold and go with her.

Dear Morgan,

I'M a 20-year-old student and I've just got a part-time job behind the bar at my local.

The landlady is 43 with long dark hair and is very horny. On my first night she offered me a drink after everyone else had gone and it wasn't long before we were kissing.

Then she started to suck my rock-hard knob. I was just about to come when she unleashed her impressive tits and w*nked me until I shot all over them.

Since then I've had her every night I've worked. We've done it on the bar, on the pool table and in the cellar.

But my girlfriend has found out and will leave me if I don't end it. I'm gutted because I want them both.What should do?

AH, Devon

Morgan says:

IF you love your girlfriend, stay with her.

Dogging fans put me off my stroke

Dear Morgan,

THEY say dogging is dead – but no-one's told dirty Doreen down our way.

She's sex mad and most evenings can be found in a car park with a few cocks up her chuff.

I've seen her in action myself and while I've belted a couple off the wrist watching her turn a few tricks, I've never been there myself.

But the other night, after several jars of strong ale in the local pub, I was in a right randy mood.

I knew there were a few spots on the in-car entertainment. I tried the clearing in the woods, and then the far end of the supermarket car park.

Eventually I found her filthy white Ford Escort parked up behind the village hall and peered in.

To my delight she was being done up the bum by a young lad.

Muck

I looked on with glee as he pumped her brown hole with impressive stamina. She was moaning her head off and clearly enjoying the experience.

The lad had skills, there's no doubt about no return before grunting as he expelled his man muck onto her boobs.

When he'd finished I climbed in the back seat and went straight to work.

To be honest, I didn't even touch the sides, but when I pulled out she gave me a brilliant blow-job.

Then I noticed several fellas grimacing in the back window with their cocks out.

That image is haunting me now. How can I get it out of my mind?

MN, Huddersfield

BRITAIN'S NO.1 ASTROLOGER WRITES FOR Sport

YOUR STARS

WITH JUSTIN TOPER

CAPRICORN (22 Dec - 19 Jan): A TIME of fairly mixed responses and when it is essential that you explore certain possibilities which never existed before. True, you may have to curtail or cut short various activities and make yourself available at work. However, there is plenty of excitement in store, including a mouthwatering event around the Solar eclipse on the 13th November. Meanwhile, a breakthrough is indicated on Friday and in some ways it will seal your success.

AQUARIUS (20 Jan - 18 Feb): ADMITTEDLY, you should warm to someone who is prepared to do anything at a moments notice. Chances are that with Venus in Libra superbly aspected by Jupiter on Friday you will be darting and fluttering all over the place – more importantly seldom will you have felt so carefree. Also, you should manage to acquire something that takes your fancy. A case of buy now, pay later. This will make up for a recent financial failure.

PISCES (19 Feb - 20 Mar): THERE is not much to report and you certainly shouldn't fear hard work today. Money is still very important, but you should receive some kind of windfall at the end of the week. Obviously, you must continue to be prudent when it comes to your new found wealth. There is no doubt that an impending trip will cost plenty, though worth every penny. At the same time others, including fellow travellers, will enchant, mystify and frustrate you. Joy and pratfalls go together.

ARIES (21 Mar - 19 Apr): THE tendency is to feel apprehensive, no matter how hard partners and close companions try to convince you to follow them. This is not ill-advised, even though you need more reassurance before you enter into any new arrangements. In any event, a stunning link between Venus and Jupiter on Friday should encourage you to take on a personal enterprise. And you will be informed of a time and a place, despite being kept in the dark for another week or so.

TAURUS (20 Apr - 20 May): YOU may have to take an inventory of current assets and liabilities. But you are are not as poorly off as you think. Don't forget that you also have a personal life, even if you will be judged by your actions over the next day or so. The end of the week should be particularly rewarding, though it's more about nourishing your body than lining your pocket. As for one relationship, the Solar eclipse on the 13th is the moment of truth and when you wonder whether life is stranger than fiction.

GEMINI (21 May - 20 Jun): CURRENT discussions are supposed to bring you closer to partners or co-workers, but there is precious little you can do to break down certain barriers. Instead, you should take care of business, especially as a decision regarding your role at work is about to be made. At the same time, Jupiter in Gemini begins to exert a positive influence and come the end of the week, you will no doubt charm the pants of everyone in sight. Let's see how down to earth you can be.

CANCER (21 Jun - 22 Jul): AN alteration in the working pattern of your life may be the answer you were looking for. And it's no surprise that others believe you are the person for the job. Even your domestic situation will improve and what happens later this week is a bonus. But that's not what will move you. Indeed, the Solar eclipse which takes place on the 13th could make you find you tremble at the knees and it wouldn't do any harm to show some leg. Meanwhile, your presence is required elsewhere today.

LEO (23 Jul - 22 Aug): EMOTIONALLY or personally, you may learn something new today. A reminder that you haven't been discarded. Far from it. A marvelous link between Venus and Jupiter on Friday urges you to readily accept an invitation and by doing so, escape all that you find nauseating. True, you are still not sure if you are moving, but potentially you are. Meanwhile, you should be in another place which is less prone to upheaval. Let's see who you come home to.

VIRGO (23 Aug - 22 Sep): YOUR heart is in the right place and thank goodness, you still have somewhere to rest your head. Admittedly, the remainder of the week may be fairly dull in comparison to what lies ahead. Indeed, your whole existence could alter around the Solar eclipse on the 13th. Incidentally, someone will make a remarkable contribution this Friday and what you are offered will fit your needs. After that, don't ask! A wonderful plan is certain to emerge as well. This time you are completely fascinated.

LIBRA (23 Sep - 22 Oct): YOU probably wish that others would make up their wretched minds and stop chopping and changing their minds. Strange to relate, but you should manage to work out a numerical puzzle today. After which, Venus in Libra exerts a magical influence and you could even be handed a ticket on Friday. Hopefully, you will still continue to conserve your energy and money. As it is, what you are about to receive will make your life more worthwhile. Absolutely.

SCORPIO (23 Oct - 21 Nov): AT times, others may be astonished how flippant you are and cannot tell what is on your mind. Perhaps you should make a few personal notes. No doubt, you are about to make an extraordinary decision and mustn't be influenced by certain friends today. In any case, you will be on the receiving end at the end of the week, even though there is a tendency to spend like there's no tomorrow. Very kind anyway. It might affect everything.

SAGITTARIUS (22 Nov - 21 Dec): YOUR judgement may be slightly impaired and in some ways you don't have any first hand experience of what is going on privately. This doesn't mean you are not blessed. No doubt, you can expect an amazing twist or two in the coming days.What it will do is bring you right out of the forest. There is also every likelihood that a partner or close friend will plan a special occasion on Friday. Now that you have a proper appointment you can relax your efforts a bit.

JUSTIN, how do you do it? I am continually amazed by your readings and the latest has prompted me to write in.

Given that I am in what I would call the "autumn of my life", I never thought I would find love again after my wife died five years ago.

But the other week you said romance might be sparked from an unusual source. I paid it no more mind until a dating website I'd used ages ago got in touch to say they had found me a match.

She seems lovely and we're going on our first date next week. Wish me luck and thank you so much!

on by defence of Grand Slam

REIGNING Grand Slam of Darts champion Phil Taylor will face 2010 winner Scott Waites in the group stage of this year's event which begins on Saturday.

"The Power" (above) must also see off former Lakeside winner Mark Webster and Holland's World Cup of Darts champion Co Stompe at Wolverhampton Civic Hall.

Taylor's first match is against Stompe and the 15-times world champ said: "It's a hard group because all the guys have had success during their careers.

DARTS

"I'll just prepare myself to face Co and then concentrate on the other games.

"The Grand Slam's a brilliant tournament because it's all the champions together and I'm practising really hard."

One of the biggest threats to Taylor retaining his crown and snatching the £100,000 first prize is fellow Stoke thrower Adrian Lewis.

The world champion tackles Gary Anderson and John Part in his tough group.

But Lewis is a man on a mission and is confident of reaching the knockout stages.

"I can't wait to get going," said Lewis (below), a semi-finalist in Wolverhampton 12 months ago.

"I absolutely love this tournament and it's close to home for me with being from Stoke.

"And the fans are great.

"I really enjoyed the event last year and I probably played my best darts in Wolverhampton since winning my first world championship.

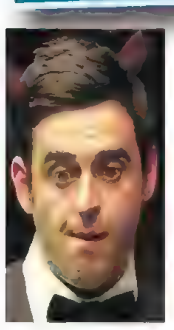
"Hopefully I can do the same again because my game's coming good again at the moment."

TENNIS

WIMBLEDON champions Jonny Marray and Freddie Nielsen extended their winning streak in London in dramatic fashion with victory over Indian pair Mahesh Bhupathi and Rohan Bopanna in their opening match at the Barclays ATP World Tour Finals.

The British-Danish duo's success at Wimbledon as wild cards earned them a place at the end-of-season showpiece at the O2 Arena.

They won the opening set and missed a match-point at 6-5 in the second before the Indians levelled and then took a 5-1 lead in the final set. But Marray and Nielsen fought back to win 6-4 6-7 (1/7) 12-10.



Rocket sticks his cue away for the season

WORLD champion Ronnie O'Sullivan has abandoned plans to return to the snooker tour and will miss the rest of the season.

The 36-year-old has "personal issues which he needs to resolve", World Snooker chairman Barry Hearn announced yesterday – and that means he will not return until next season at the earliest.

O'Sullivan (above) announced after winning his fourth world title in May that he intended to take six months out from the sport.

SNOOKER

And although he returned to play in a low-profile Players Tour Championship event in September, he pulled out of last week's International Championship citing illness.

Hearn (below) said: "I have spoken to Ronnie and he has decided to withdraw from any events he has entered and he will not be playing for the rest of this season.

"He has some personal issues which he needs to resolve and we wish him them out. Before he beat Ali Carter to land his latest world title "The Rocket" said it could be time to bid farewell to the sport.

But after an impasse over signing a contract to play again this season, he agreed in August to continue, only to have second thoughts.

Prior to the International Championship – a new event in Chengdu which pays similar prize money to

GARETH ROBERTS

CUTTING THROUGH THE BULLSHIT EVERY WEEK

Stupid RVP shirt swapper Santos should be sent back to Brazil!

LET'S cut to the chase – modern footballers are a bunch of overpaid w*nkers wandering around in an elite world of their own.

These pink boot-wearing, sunbed addicted, moisturising thundercs could – and should – give a shit about football and its fans.

After all, it's our unconditional love for the game (and our hard-earned cash) that has swelled their bank accounts to the point that they require their own vault.

But let's be honest, the majority of these pampered pricks couldn't give a flying f.

They're far too busy with the real priorities in life – like shit hairdos, massive headphones, designer wash bags and cars that look like they should be blowing up the Taliban in Afghanistan.

There's no low some of these knobheads won't stoop to – hats, gloves, snoods (whatever happened to snoods?)

I'm generalising here, obviously, but you get the picture – they couldn't be further removed from the people in the stands if they tried.

Bellendery from footballers shouldn't shock – because it's the norm rather than the exception.

But f* me with a feather if Andre Santos didn't take cockheadedness to a new level at the weekend.

Put yourself in an Arsenal fan's shoes for a moment.

You've forked out a fortune for a ticket, trekked halfway across the country at an ungodly hour to make it for kick-off and then – three minutes after parking your freezing arse on a plastic seat – your team goes 1-0 down with overpriced soggy pie on the blow of the ref's half-time whistle, you glance towards the tunnel and there's your player – with 45 minutes still to play – begging the scorer of the goal and the target of your ire, Robin van Persie (below), for his shirt.

If the lad had walked up to the away end, mooned the travelling Gunners fans and offered them the bird, they'd have probably been less offended.

Santos – a £6.8million player with 22 caps for Brazil – acted like some kind of starry-eyed supporter rather than a highly-paid Premier League defender.

What the f was he thinking? How were the fans – or his team-mates – supposed to take him seriously after his public display of affection for United's biggest goal threat?

It hardly helped that Santos had a crap game and the defeat consigned Arsenal to their worst start under Arsene Wenger.

Arsenal supporters are forced to pay some of the highest prices in the land to watch their team – a team that hasn't won a pot for SEVEN years.

They must have winced when Sir Alex Ferguson described the game as a "hard-ish" fixture and then bemoaned the fact United hadn't scored four or five.

It was the most one-sided 2-1 game you'll probably ever see – tough to stomach for fans who can remember the days when the Gunners went toe to toe with United at the top of the league.

So Santos' bum-licking cringeyness was a stamp on the head. It was a c's trick – and he should be packed off back home for it.

DO PEOPLE REALLY BUY THIS CRAP?

WHO the f* works in merchandise departments at football clubs?

Blind people? Druggies? Glue-heads?

I can't think of any other explanation for some of the absolute shite clubs sell.

Who in their right mind would buy a shirt with a wraparound picture of a stadium (Anfield) on it for 40 quid?

How about Father Christmas wearing a Manchester City kit sitting in a snow globe for a competitively priced £20?

Chelsea fans, meanwhile, can treat themselves to a "pewter stadium" for a mere £90.

THURSDAY: BELLE VUE

Tomorrow sees the semi-finals of the English Laurels take place.

FARLOE WARHAWK T1 20.30, goes in the first semi-final. He is the fastest young dog in the business and he should quickly put his rivals to the sword and book his place for the final in style.

TAYLORS SKY T2 20.47 will try to emulate what the young top gun does by showing there is life in the old dog yet. It would be crazy to write off the old champion and I fully expect to see them go head to head in next week's decider but still favour Warhawk.

LOUIS SAHA is determined his first Sunderland goal will be an important one.

The 34-year-old heads to former club Everton at the weekend still to break his Black Cats duck.

Martin O'Neill's men have only managed one Premier League victory in 17 attempts.

And Saha said: "You work hard for that first goal and the pressure is off when you get it.

"But you want to make sure you get when it's the right moment – you don't want to score when you're 3-0 down and you don't need it."

Ash Ful of good vibes

ASHKAN DEJAGAH is delighted to be making a belated impact at Fulham.

The Iran winger, 26, had to wait for a debut after his summer switch from Wolfsburg because of injury.

But he has featured in the last three games and Martin Jol's side are handily placed in eighth.

He said: "It's just great to be involved in games.

"It was a very difficult start for me but, thankfully, that is behind me now.

"The manager knows what I can bring to the team and he wants me to make a difference in the final third."

Royals will be Jay-OK

JAY TABB is confident Reading will soon play someone they can actually beat.

Brian McDermott's side – who have yet to win this season – lost a 4-0 advantage over Arsenal in the Capital One Cup.

But with Norwich, Wigan, Aston Villa and Southampton on the horizon, Tabb is sure their season will soon get going.

He said: "This is a massive month and we have to get some wins.

"We look like we can win most weeks. We have to turn draws into wins and we'll be OK."

Mellon's ripe for Seasiders

FLEETWOOD boss Micky Mellon has admitted he is flattered by interest from Blackpool.

The Seasiders are searching for a new manager after Ian Holloway jumped ship to Crystal Palace last week.

And they may just look down the Fylde coast to Fleetwood, with former Blackpool player Mellon a strong candidate.

He said: "It's great for people to say you could go to jobs like that because

MAT'S NOT IT FOR TOON

By JASON MELLOR

MATHIEU DEBUCHY insists his dream move to Newcastle isn't dead.

Full-back Debuchy (left) remains desperate to add to Alan Pardew's French foreign legion at St James' Park – and hasn't given up hope of a switch being resurrected in January.

Toon failed with a £4million summer bid for the France defender, who is keeping his fingers crossed Pardew renews his interest in the winter transfer window.

The highly-rated 27-year-old would love to link up with his former team-mate Yohan Cabaye.

And he would add to the strong Gallic influence on Tyneside which also includes fellow Frogs Hatem Ben Arfa, Gabriel Obertan and Sylvain Marveaux.

Lille are holding out for £6m and Debuchy insisted: "I fought for the Newcastle move, but club president Michel Seydoux did not want me to go so I was left disappointed.

"I was regularly on the telephone to the Newcastle representatives and there were several offers." Toon's first-choice right-back Danny Simpson will be free to talk to other clubs in January after negotiations on a new contract stalled.

That's likely to spark a fresh move for Debuchy, who added: "At present, I'm focused on Lille.

"But hopefully there will be other opportunities in the future because I wanted to go to Newcastle."

NEV SAYS DROP YOUR DRAWS!

FRUSTRATING: Neville & Moyes (inset) know Everton must make their slick play count

Phil orders Toffees to become more ruthless

By NEIL JOHNSTON

PHIL NEVILLE has told Everton to become more ruthless – or forget about their Champions League dream.

The Toffees are above Tottenham, Arsenal, Newcastle and Liverpool in the table after an impressive start to the campaign.

But despite losing just one of the first 10 games, David Moyes' side are in danger of letting all their hard work slip.

Everton are fourth in the Premier League table but have drawn their last four games.

so charitable in the future. The Toffees skipper, 35, added: "The Fulham game was probably the best we have played all season – maybe the best we have played since January.

"We went to Fulham and totally dominated the game.

"We had all the possession, six or seven chances where if we had been a bit more clinical we would have come out 7-2 winners. That's how it felt playing.

"We just need to be a little bit more ruthless and not totally dependant on Nikica Jelavic (right) scoring.

midfield, the wide areas and at the back. It's up to us all to do it."

The Toffees host struggling Sunderland on Saturday and then face games against Reading and Norwich before entertaining Arsenal on November 28.

Veteran Neville said: "Drawing is becoming our Achilles heel at the moment and we need to win these games.

"But we have got to take confidence from the display against Fulham – it was outstanding.

INFECTIOUS: Chamakh

Gunners flop Chamakh's sick & tired

By JON WEST

ARSENAL'S Marouane Chamakh has revealed he has been suffering from an infectious disease that left him exhausted.

The Morocco striker, 28, was laid low by mononucleosis – better known as glandular fever or the "kissing disease" as it is spread by saliva.

It often takes months to clear up and playing sport with the condition risks spleen damage.

But he returned to the starting line-up last week and scored twice in the 7-5 Capital One Cup win at Reading.

He said: "I was dreading the Reading match because I had not played for a long time.

Tired

"At the start of the season, I was sick. I caught a bad disease – mononucleosis.

"It was really annoying. I couldn't do anything, not even training. Even when you do nothing, you're tired."

Chamakh may be over that now but knows he still has to win over manager Arsene Wenger, who signed forwards Olivier Giroud and Lukas Podolski in the summer.

And if he can't do that by January he will move on, with former club Bordeaux keen to bring him back to France.

He said: "My priority would be to stay in England but if I were to return to France, it would be only with Bordeaux."

Luis and Stevie are not Russian off on long haul

KOPPING OUT: Suarez & Gerrard

I'M STAYING: Skrtel

LUIS SUAREZ and Steven Gerrard will be told to put their feet up this week as they dodge Liverpool's trek to Russia.

The Reds' star pairing are set to be rested by boss Brendan Rodgers as the team flies out to Moscow today for their showdown with Anzhi Makhachkala.

Suarez and Gerrard will be needed for Sunday's clash with Chelsea and a trip to eastern Europe is not ideal preparation.

The Reds beat the mega-bucks Russians last time out at Anfield and are top of Group A.

So Rodgers may see this as the perfect chance to rest some of his more senior stars. Another one of those due for some R&R is Martin Skrtel.

ANZHI MAKHACHKALA v LIVERPOOL
Live on ITV4 – 5pm

But if the Reds defender was a bit more greedy, he could already be in Russia.

Apparently Anzhi tried to tempt the Slovakian with a massive contract in the summer.

Satisfied

But he showed his loyalty to the Kop by signing a new deal.

However, Skrtel – who played in Russia for Zenit St Petersburg before joining Liverpool – admitted they can now attract big stars. He added: "I recently extended my contract with Liverpool and I am very satisfied with it. So let's just leave it at that.

"The level of Russian football has grown incredibly – at least from the days when I played there.

"And now big transfers which take major players to Russia, they are not a surprise."

Liverpool left-back Jose Enrique reckons rivals are only claiming Suarez is a diver because they are afraid of his talent.

A number of managers and players have hit out at the Uruguayan.

But Enrique said: "People try to make Luis struggle because he is an important player for us and some of the teams are scared of him."

UPWARDLY MOBILE: Pardew has got Toon flying

KNOCKOUT BLOW ONE AL OF A LIFT FOR PARDS

ALAN PARDEW can lead Newcastle into the Europa League knockout phase with a win at crisis club Brugge.

It doesn't take famed Flemish detective Hercule Poirot to work out that the bashed-up Belgians are there for the taking after sacking boss Georges Leekens.

A fifth defeat in a row cost the hapless Leekens his job last weekend, but the future looks brighter for Pardew and his upwardly-mobile Geordie troops.

Victory should be good enough to take table-toppers Toon through to next year's knockout stages. And keeper Tim Krul is confident that Newcastle can keep up their good run in Europe, which has seen them take seven points from their first three group games.

They're yet to concede a goal in four-and-a-half hours and saw off Brugge last month at St James' Park a lot more easily than the 1-0 scoreline suggested.

CLUB BRUGGE v NEWCASTLE
Live on ESPN – 6pm

Suspensions

Newcastle host West Ham in the Premier League on Sunday and Holland international Krul said: "The next four or five games are going to be massive for us and they're ones we feel we can definitely win."

Toon will field a strong team on Thursday night – thanks to their mounting tally of league suspensions.

Skipper Fabricio Coloccini – who starts a three-game Premier League ban for his red card at Liverpool – faces Brugge alongside Cheick Tiote, with the midfield enforcer two-thirds of the way through a three-game suspension.

Demba Ba (shin), Yohan Cabaye (hamstring) and James Perch (thigh) are all out with injuries.

Utility man Perch will be missing for at leat a month, but Ba and Cabaye hope to be fit to face West Ham and their strong former Toon contingent of Sam Allardyce, Andy Carroll and Kevin Nolan.

France international Cabaye revealed he came off as a precaution after claiming a stunning strike in the 1-1 draw at Anfield.

Cameo

He added: "We have so many important games coming up and I don't want to miss out. It's a tight hamstring but I don't think it is too bad."

Midfielder Hatem Ben Arfa added: "We've got a big week on the horizon.

"First it's Brugge, then West Ham. They are both games we have to win."

Sammy Ameobi is set to get another Europa League start after some impressive cameo displays.

The 20-year-old said: "It's great to hear people saying

"It's in our hands and that's all you can ask for.

"Everything is still to play as Spurs were beaten 1-0 by Wigan. But defender Jan Vertonghen is confident they will not slip up in front of their own fans again.

He said: "The team is strong enough to come back from that defeat.

BURNLEY 1 LEEDS 0

CHARLIE AUSTIN made Clarets history with the goal that settled this tense War of the Roses.

It made him the quickest ever Burnley player to reach 20 goals, as well as pocketing three vital points.

Austin's 81st-minute header from Kieran Trippier's cross also meant the goal ace has now scored in six home games in a row.

Leeds keeper Paddy Kenny pulled off a couple of cracking saves.

Austin fired his first real chance straight at the United stopper – but his goal knack hadn't deserted him.

BIRMINGHAM 2 BRISTOL CITY 0

MARLON KING scored one and made the other as Blues' horror home form came to an end.

Chris Burke set the ball rolling before King made sure as Birmingham claimed only a third league win from eight attempts at St Andrew's.

Burke played a one-two with King before emphatically rifling home from a narrow angle on 59 minutes.

And King made certain 14 minutes later when he swept home a Nikola Zigic flick-on for his eighth goal of the season.

HULL 2 WOLVES 1

SONE ALUKO scored for the third game in a row to show why Hull boss Steve Bruce rates him so highly.

Aluko backed up his manager's words of praise earlier in the week with another lively display – and another goal.

The Nigerian was on target for the sixth time this season when he steered a 25-yard free-kick inside a post.

His strike partner Jay Simpson sealed the Tigers' fifth win in six games when he finished from a tight angle.

Wolves gave them a few scares and forced James Chester to put through his own net.

BRIGHTON 1 PETERBORO 0

STEPHEN DOBBIE'S first Brighton goal secured the Seagulls' first win eight games.

Peterborough came within seconds of their first goalless draw in 136 matches stretching back to December 2009 but were beaten at the death.

Sub Dobbie coolly clipped the ball over Posh keeper Robert Olejnik just when it looked as though Gus Poyet's side would never find a way

Adam makes sure Foxes can Bog off

BOLTON 0 LEICESTER 0

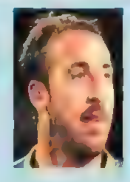
ADAM BOGDAN produced a string of wonder saves to frustrate Leicester.

Bolton's Hungarian stopper (above) was at his best as the Trotters found themselves under the cosh in Dougie Freedman's second game in charge.

Bogdan denied David Nugent, Danny Drinkwater and Martyn Waghorn with excellent stops.

But Bolton weathered the storm and might have secured all three points themselves. FoxeskeeperKasperSchmeichel did well to deny Chris Eagles his seventh league goal of the campaign.

And he kept out further efforts from Kevin Davies and Chung-Yong Lee to grab a point.



OLLIE GOOD SHOW FROM ACE MURRAY

CRYSTAL PALACE 5 IPSWICH 0

GLENN MURRAY'S second-half hat-trick helped the Eagles get off to a flying start under new boss Ian Holloway as they went top of the table.

Yannick Bolasie started the rout with a lob, but it was Murray (above) who made Ipswich pay as Palace were awarded three penalties in seven minutes.

The ex-Brighton man scored the first two before blasting straight at Stephen Henderson with his third. But a brilliant cross from Joel Ward picked Murray out to stab home his third, with Andre Moritz adding a fifth in injury-time.

Ipswich remain bottom and new boss Mick McCarthy has plenty of work to do.

FOREST CAN'T GET FIRE STARTED

BILLY'S BLUNTED: Sharp missed a host of great chances

N FOREST 0 MIDDLESBROUGH 0

FOREST suffered a crap night in front of goal to let Boro off the hook.

Billy Sharp came closest when hit a post, but Simon Cox and Andy Reid both squandered great chances to bring the Teesside club's seven-game unbeaten run in all competitions to a screeching halt.

The last of the Forest openings, deep into the second half, which saw the ball pass through the feet of Reid 14 yards out, summed up just how bad the hosts were in the finishing stakes.

Cox harassed Boro early on and carved out the first opportunity of the game for Reid to line up – and sky over the bar.

Sharp flashed a warning shot past Jason Steele's post after Reid expertly flicked an Adlene Guedioura's pass in his direction. Boro were all huff and puff in the first half, failing to trouble Lee Camp.

Guedioura forced Josh McEachran to clear off the line with a stinging shot.

But when Sharp was picked out by Cox at the far post, the front man lashed his shot wide.

Danger

Boro's Aussie striker Scott McDonald almost punished Forest as he latched on to a long ball and rounded Camp.

But a slight stumble, and the intervention of Danny Collins, cleared the danger.

Sharp almost atoned for his first-half sins when he got another sight of goal on 70 minutes, but blasted his effort against the woodwork.

Goal star Johnnie comes five alive

CHARLTON 5 CARDIFF 4

CHARLTON'S five-star display stunned high-flying Cardiff in a nine-goal thriller.

The Addicks won for the first time on home soil since August – and left doubts over Cardiff's promotion credentials.

Heidur Helguson headed Cardiff into a fourth-minute lead following Peter Whittingham's corner.

Charlton made a hash of a clearance. But then the Addicks took over and scored five goals in 26 minutes.

Johnnie Jackson (left) led the corner. Cardiff were shell-shocked – but it would get even worse.

Dale Stephens' free-kick sailed over Marshall's head to hand Charlton the lead.

And they were again reeling when Danny Haynes headed in five minutes later.

Rob Hulse added a fifth, but there was still time for Cardiff to

HUDDERSFIELD 2 BLACKBURN 0

LEE NOVAK scored a dramatic equaliser in the fourth minute of stoppage time to rescue a point for the Terriers.

Novak, who put Town in front early on, prodded home after his initial shot was saved.

Blackburn skipper Danny Murphy looked to have secured new manager Henning Berg's first win with a controversial penalty on 55 minutes.

Rovers, who dominated but trailed to Novak's early strike, levelled when former Huddersfield striker Jordan Rhodes rifled in an angled drive.

SHEFF WED 0 BLACKPOOL 2

TOM INCE grabbed his eighth goal of the season to help lift the gloom for managerless Blackpool.

Ince pounced from close range in the 17th minute as the Seasiders snapped a five-game winless streak.

Michail Antonio forced Matt Gilks into a low save and the lively Wednesday winger had a penalty claim turned down when he was pulled back in the box.

Gary Taylor-Fletcher almost doubled the lead when he headed against the bar. Ludovic Sylvestre sealed the win on 83 minutes, following up after Chris Kirkland saved from Nathan Delfouneso.

DERBY 2 BARNSLEY 0

NATHAN TYSON'S 25-yard screamer and a James O'Connor header helped Derby record back-to-back league victories for the first time this season.

The Rams took the lead when a curling free-kick from teenager Will Hughes was met by O'Connor at the back post.

Tykes keeper Luke Steele got a hand on the ball but it trickled over the line.

And Tyson put the icing on the cake for Nigel Clough's side with a superb long-range strike which flew past Steele and into the roof of the net.

WATFORD 0 MILLWALL 0

KENNY JACKETT marked five years at the New Den by extending Millwall's unbeaten run to eight games.

Watford had a let-off when Lloyd Doyley failed to deal with a James Henry cross and Lions striker Chris Wood fired wide.

Argie winger Fernando Forestieri almost pinched the lead for the Hornets just before the break, only to see his effort headed off the line.

Weng's leaky Ars let it slip

GUNNERS BLOW TWO-GOAL LEAD

SCHALKE 2 ARSENAL 2

ARSENE WENGER was handed a Champions League headache after Arsenal threw away a two-goal lead.

The Gunners looked set to go top of Group B when they raced ahead through Theo Walcott and Olivier Giroud inside 23 minutes.

But they remain second behind Schalke after letting the Germans back into the game to claim a point.

And, with Olympiacos lying a point behind Wenger's men in third, the final two group games will provide a real test of Arsenal's nerve. Wenger admitted his side was lacking belief after they were outplayed by Man United last weekend.

And he tried to shake things up by dropping Andre Santos after the left-back's shocking display at Old Trafford that hit rock-bottom when he swapped shirts with Robin van Persie at half-time.

Arsenal knew all about the threat posed by Schalke, especially Klaas-Jan Huntelaar. The Dutch striker set his side on course for victory at the Emirates two weeks ago as the Germans inflicted Arsenal's first home defeat in 27 games in Europe.

And he looked razor sharp when he fired in a fifth-minute shot that tested Vito Mannone.

Ibrahim Afellay then forced a one-handed save from the Gunners keeper. But Wenger's men bounced back from their shaky start when Giroud was sent clear by a poor back header in the 17th minute.

The French striker was tackled inside the box but Walcott was quick to the rebound to force the ball home.

Eight minutes later Giroud headed the second to put the Gunners firmly in control.

Lukas Podolski did well to whip in a left-wing cross and Giroud powered home a diving header.

Arsenal were in cruise control and Giroud fluffed a clear header that would have made it three.

But Huntelaar struck on half-time with a classy left-footed shot and it was game on once again.

Five minutes after the restart the deadly Dutchman should have levelled after springing the offside trap, only to be denied by Mannone.

Schalke stepped up their bid for a leveller – and it finally arrived in the 66th minute.

FERGUSON WANTS TO QUALIFY, THEN MAKE CITY SUFFER

BRAGA v MANCHESTER UNITED

Champions League – Tonight, 7.45pm, Sky Sports 4

SIR ALEX FERGUSON has warned his charges to secure Champions League qualification tonight so they are in top shape for next month's Manchester derby.

United travel to Portugal to face Braga, who they beat 3-2 at Old Trafford two weeks ago.

Ferguson does not want his side to let up as he eyes getting qualification in the bag well before their final group game with Romanian outfit CFR Cluj on December 5.

That's because United face rivals City just four days later at the Etihad Stadium.

And Fergie is keen to get revenge over the Premier League champions who did the double over United last term.

He also wants to use the Champions League to help Chris Smalling and Phil Jones get back to fitness. The duo are almost set for a return and Smalling has trained ahead of the trip to Braga.

However, Fergie would ideally like to use them against Galatasaray and Cluj in the final group games instead of dropping them in the deep end in the Premier League.

That would also give him a chance to rest veteran Rio Ferdinand, who has been playing more than usual because of Nemanja Vidic's long-term injury.

Qualify

Ferguson said: "The game in Braga will give me a chance to utilise my squad, and I'll be making some changes.

"Obviously we want to win. If we get a win, that's better as we want to make sure we qualify first.

"If we do, it gives me options to utilise Smalling and Jones, then we can make sure that Ferdinand is fresh for all these games.

"I won't have to worry about playing him Saturday, Wednesday, Saturday and then Wednesday. That's an important issue.

"I don't expect Vidic to be back until Christmas, so it adds back-up in that respect."

Darren Fletcher sat out training ahead of the trip to Portugal and may miss out.

It is unclear if the midfielder is struggling with the bowel condition that kept him out of the majority of last season, but he has spoken of the constant battle with the illness.

"The condition never goes away and that's the thing I have to live with," Fletcher said.

"Every day is a battle for me. I have to watch my diet and take certain medication or it could come back again."

With a trip to Aston Villa on Saturday, Ferguson may rest both Robin van Persie and Wayne Rooney, with Javier Hernandez ready to step in.

Van Persie's praised strike partner Rooney. He said: "We're helping each other out. We both play behind and a bit higher up.

"It seems to be working well and I am very happy

MOMENT OF HOPE: Aguero celebrates his equaliser

rescue – but City can't get their miracle

SERGIO AGUERO spared Roberto Mancini from a complete Euro horror show as Manchester City stormed back from two goals down.

Siem de Jong netted twice in the opening 16 minutes to leave the Blues facing their biggest Champions League humiliation of a miserable campaign.

Aguero rescued a point after 73 minutes when he chased down a Mario Balotelli flick-on and fired into the corner from 18 yards.

But, with four games left in Group D, City now need to hope all four results go their way – including beating Real Madrid and Borussia Dortmund – to advance.

Mancini admitted his side needed a miracle to stay alive in the competition.

And within 16 minutes of kick-off, the chances of Bobby Manc keeping his job beyond the turn of the year looked just as slim.

Ryan Babel's 10th-minute corner found Niklas Moisander six yards out and he poked towards goal.

With the Blues' defence failing to react, it was left to De Jong to ram the ball into an unguarded net at the far post.

MANCINI'S MEN HIT BY DODGY LATE DECISIONS

Rampaging

Worse was to follow just six minutes later, this time from a left-wing corner taken by Christian Eriksen.

Yaya Toure failed to track danger man De Jong and he guided a glancing header into the near post from six yards.

The English champs had started brightly enough with Yaya Toure making an early, hopeful appeal for a pen after contact from Christian Poulsen.

Carlos Tevez also played in the rampaging Pablo Zabaleta but the defender hurried his shot over under pressure.

The goals followed – but City were back in the game on 22 minutes when Samir Nasri's cross from the right skimmed off the head of a defender and from a neat Javi Garcia cross. But De Jong almost claimed a hat-trick with a 25-yard shot that whistled just wide.

Desperate Mancini threw on Balotelli at the break as he flung even more firepower at the Dutch masters.

De Jong brought down Tevez 25 yards out, but Toure could only drill his shot straight into the wall.

But there was a warning from the ever-dangerous de Jong whose 25-yarder forced Joe Hart into a diving save.

And Lasse Schone's superb 20-yard free-kick also drew a brilliant diving save from Hart.

After Aguero's equaliser, City almost snatched a winner when Vermeer had to dive sharply to keep out a Balotelli header from Nasri's free-kick.

City were twice denied a late winner as the match ended in controversy.

Aguero had the ball in the net after 88 minutes but had it

BRAZIL NUT: Luiz has been woeful in recent games

ROB: LETHAL LUIZ WON'T BLOW US OUT OF EUROPE!

CHELSEA v SHAKHTAR DONETSK

Champions League – Tonight, 7.45pm, Sky Sports 3

CHELSEA boss Roberto Di Matteo insists David Luiz is not a ticking time bomb who could blow them out of the Champions League.

The holders entertain Shakhtar Donetsk, who are three points clear at the top of Group E after beating Di Matteo's men in Ukraine last month.

Luiz missed the 1-1 draw with Swansea at the weekend because of an ankle injury but is expected to make it tonight. But there are some at Stamford Bridge who would be happy to see him still sidelined after two woeful performances at the back against Man United.

The Brazilian netted an own goal as Chelsea let in seven goals in those two games.

But Di Matteo insisted: "He is a fantastic player for us.

"We are working on the fact that in certain moments maybe it's better to play simple, but he is a player with great qualities that has decided many games for us as well."

CONFIDENT: Srna

Relishing

Playmaker Juan Mata – October's Premier League player of the month – is also over a hamstring problem but Ashley Cole is a doubt because of an ankle knock so Ryan Bertrand stands by.

Mata made it clear he was relishing playing alongside fellow flair men Eden Hazard and Oscar.

He said: "I'm really enjoying it. They are players who like to play with the ball, to assist and who have good movement – more or less like me."

Chelsea are in second place in the group but risk being overtaken by Juventus, who are one point behind and are at 10 goals in the four games he missed after he was suspended for racially abusing Queens Park Rangers defender Anton Ferdinand.

But striker Fernando Torres faces an anxious wait to see if he is dropped after some lacklustre performances.

Chelsea were outplayed for long periods in Ukraine as Shakhtar won 2-1 and they are also no longer top of the Premier League.

Success

No wonder then that Shakhtar star Darijo Srna was confident not only of getting the better of the Blues again, but also going on to win the trophy as well.

He said: "In the past few years we have had a lot of success, winning

The Liverpool and England captain was taking part in a Twitter Q&A session when he was asked to name the best front man he'd ever played alongside.

And, amazingly, he chose to ignore Three Lions ace Rooney in favour of hate figure Suarez.

The Liverpool striker (left) has been under constant fire for his diving antics and was banned for eight games last season for racial abuse – but that didn't stop Gerrard ranking him above Roo.

ROBBED!

Mancini rages at cock-up ref

ROBERTO MANCINI insisted Manchester City had been ROBBED after their latest Champions League cock-up.

The Premier League champions recovered brilliantly after falling two behind to Ajax.

But they were denied victory at the death when referee Peter Rasmussen wrongly ruled out an effort for offside and then ignored a late penalty claim – leaving Mancini fuming.

City are now almost certain to exit the competition at the group stage.

And Mancini raged: "The referee and the linesmen were really poor. We should have had a penalty and a goal.

"I told the referee it was a goal and it was not offside.

"I think we played well. We conceded two goals from two corners but we had a lot of chances."

But Vincent Kompany admitted City had only themselves to blame.

The City skipper said: "Corners are very important to defend as a team and we've let ourselves down on those two.

"When you look at the game they didn't have many chances and those goals are not good to give away.

"It was a case of us not scoring."

BUST IN THE BUSINESS!

SIR ALEX FERGUSON will stay at Old Trafford for life – as Man United prepare to unveil a STATUE of the Scot.

It will make its debut at the ground before United's clash with QPR on November 23 – the same team Fergie faced on his first game in charge of the Red Devils 26 years ago.

Last season United renamed their North
